A Continuing Tradition

A continuing tradition . . . Kokomo High School, 1982, certainly has had to live-up to demanding traditions.

Over the 110 years Kokomo High School has existed, there have been awards won varying from a State Basketball Championship in 1961, to a State Debate Championship in 1979. Such goals as a newly renovated school building to being a part of a graduating class have been established.

Both academic and student behavior standards have been set over the years. Every new year offers each Kokomo High School student the challenge of adding to the list of accomplishments, or to just "live-up" to them by having his name on an honor plaque, or having his picture join the collection of others in Memorial Gym . . . this is a continuing tradition.

Although Kokomo High School has had its share of failures, it also has had its victories. The Girls' Golf team, continued on to their first regional and placed second in the All-County Tournament. The Girls' Volleyball team recaptured their Sectional Crown, and the Varsity Cheerleaders placed third in the State Championships. These were only a few of a growing list.

A feeling of excellence and prestige filled the halls here at Kokomo, and for this, there was only one explaination; the students and faculty wanted it that way. The Boys' Legion's annual "school clean-up" was a success, and the Girls' League organized a number of activities that benefited the community. Kokomo High School students cared for the community, the school, and for one another . . . this is a continuing tradition.

A Continuing Tradition

Every year, Kokomo High School students strive to "measure-up" to these long-lived traditions of the past.

"Whenever I would walk by the honor plaques during the year, they reminded me of what they stood for, academic excellence. That was an incentive for me to give a little extra toward my academic studies," replied Abby Conkle.

"On my way to practice every day, I passed the area of the gym where the outstanding athletes' pictures hung, and I always thought of what an honor it would be to have my picture join them," commented Senior Kevin Lechner.

Boys' Tennis team member Kent Boyum said, "The team went 3-13 last year; however, the team experienced both group and individual bests. That made it all worthwhile."

By excelling in academics, athletics, or by just knowing that they've done their best for themselves and for their school, students contributed a sense of accomplishment to Kokomo High and to their fellow classmates . . . this is a continuing tradition.

The 1982 school year and all its students did "measure- up" to the high standards that were established so many years ago. This perhaps was the most outstanding achievement of them all . . . this was Kokomo High School . . . and this was a continuing traditon.

Teri Lambert

"The most rewarding thing that I got from my four years at KHS was being able to get along with many different people. Being the large school that it is, Kokomo gave me the chance to meet and make friends I'll never forget."

Seven year itch

Kathleen Taylor prepares a bulletin board for her last North Central evaluation. Mrs. Taylor is retiring this year.

Just like locusts which appear every seven years, the North Central Evaluation team descends on Kokomo High School every seven years. The week before Christmas vacation found our halls and classrooms invaded by a friendly group of high school teachers, college professors, and graduate students.

The visitation of the team is only one part of an evaluation. KHS teachers and students had been involved in filling out detailed reports since the fall of 1980. These written reports were a self-evaluation. When the team arrived at KHS they were to determine if our self-evaluation was accurate.

For weeks before the visitors arrived the campus crawled with custodial workers who did what we all do when we expect company — they made our buildings shine!

Those of us at KHS found the team members to be most enjoyable people. They, in turn, commented frequently on the warmth of the welcome they received from staff and students.

The team sent a written report to KHS in January. The North Central Accreditation is most important to students who wish to attend college or any post-high school training. KHS was awarded the highest accreditation. In other words they told us what we knew already — that this school is EXCELLENT!

John Rosenbarger puts all those A-V skills to use as he works on a map that will show all the home cities of the North Central team members.

New Traditional Activities

Students stock pile produce.

Most students agreed that attending classes was very boring and pathetic at times. These feelings tended to cause apathy towards the traditional school spirit of KHS . . . SO, these active students joined clubs, ran for office, marched in band, spoke for speech and debate, and reported for Red & Blue.

Included with academic activities were those activities that everyone could enjoy and participate in. School games, proms, Mayfest, and dress-up days were some, with the exception of Homecoming. Homecoming still had many participants but instead of building floats everyone built, rather "Made" scrambled eggs and tomato sauce. These mishaps caused a slight change in homecoming functions. Instead of building floats, the students showed their spirit during homecoming by participating in dress-up days, with the class having the most participation winning the spirit stick. The premier recipent was the Senior class of 1982.

With the exception of this new tradition, KHS still offered its traditional activities.

"Once in Your Life"

The dark lights and soft music set a romantic mood for the 1981 Autumn Prom. With "Once in Your Life" as the theme, taken from the song "Authur's Theme" sung by Christopher Cross, the gym had the look of New York City.

The dance floor was decorated with park benches and bushes along the sides and street signs in the middle.

The highlight of the evening was the crowning of the Rex. The Rex candidates included Mike Banusch, Joe Etherington, Kent Hagebusch, Steve Hogan, and Kevin Lechner. The crowning had a royal touch when Rex Steve Hogan kneeled on one knee and Abby Conkle placed the traditional crown on his head.

Dean Winslow commented, "The use of nice colors beautifully accentuated the picturesque New York skyline on the dance floor walls. A Girls' League Council that actually WORKED on the prom committees successfully re-created a Central Park scene — the most beautiful flat I've seen."

Our Active Days

The theme of this year's Sargasso is "A Continuing Tradition," but this did not hold true for the homecoming lawn displays. A new tradition of egg throwing was the main reason for the death of the old. Because students ignored the threats from Mr. Moore and continued their abusive and unnecessary conduct, the tradition of homecoming lawn displays was cancelled.

Freshman Tim Kiley said, "A few kids, who wouldn't mind, ruined the tradition for future years. We freshmen never had the chance to participate in the fun of building the floats."

Senior Jerry King said, "I don't think the floats should have been cancelled. We have thrown eggs in previous years and they weren't cancelled before."

Besides the controversy over the lawn displays, this year's homecoming was full of fun and excitement. The dress-up days, the football game, and the overall school spirit combined to make the 1981 homecoming a big success.

Deadlines to Meet

The Sargasso Editorial Staff wasn't all fun and games. Many hours were spent writing bodies, planning spreads, calling businesses about ads, and rushing to meet deadlines. But things got done due to the relaxed atmosphere and the freedoms given to the staff.

"The 81-82 staff," stated co-editor David Jackson, "was a well-chosen staff consisting of students from all different aspects of student life, and that is what a yearbook is, a report of all the different events and viewpoints throughout the year."

Andrea Rutherford said, "This is my first year on the staff, but so far it's really interesting. It really gets you to know the other people and all the different things going on in the school."

After all the work of putting a yearbook together, came a necessity . . . DONUTS! Donuts were looked upon as a "reward" for a week's worth of work well done.

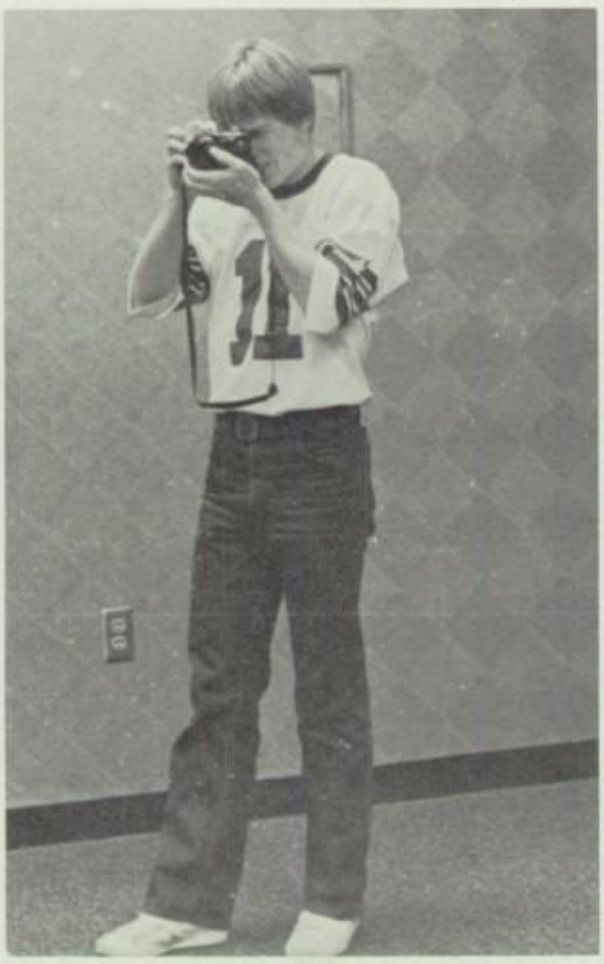
The Underlying Pulse of RED & BLUE



Phil Hynds enjoys focusing on unsuspecting prey.

"We have a great staff with some fine senior leadership. Mr. Fisher has stepped right in and done a terrific job. The difference between our staff and last year's is that we are a lot more organized," says editor-in-chief Scott Keith. (mw)

What was it that kept us up to date about sports, fads, and trends, and academic and social events throughout the year? Of course it was the school periodical, RED & BLUE.

While mingling amongst the RED & BLUE staff trying to write this spread, one name, one common denominator kept popping up. Everyone I talked to mentioned Jeff Fisher and credited him with much of the success and organization of RED & BLUE. Managing editor John Dempsey said, "I feel that this year's staff is the best in the years I have been at KHS. I've seen a major improvement in the quality of the paper and the writing of the stories. Jeff (Fisher) should be commended in his leadership as our advisor." Page editor Angie Stitt commented, "I think we are more organized than last year, also that we have improved tremendously. I think that Mr. Fisher has done a super job in bringing us back to the top."

One new and unique addition to the 1981-1982 RED & BLUE was "Ty Basham's Neck of the Woods." This column was unique (as far as high school newspapers go) because it took a broad look at the aspects of the environment. It was refreshing to those that already had an interest in the outdoors and enlightened those who thought "woodchuck" was the first two words of a sentence that questioned Charles' manliness. When asked about the column, Ty remarked, "Mr. Fisher's confidence in the staff helped make this year's RED & BLUE really great. 'Ne Ty Basham's Neck of the Woods' was just one example of his going out on a limb for us."

Two seemingly small but important characteristics of the periodical helped make it harder for students to wait for the next issue of RED & BLUE. One was the unintimidated style of the opinionated columns. The staff endeavored to tell their readers bluntly what they thought of the latest fads, trends, school policy changes, etc. Secondly, Rick Woolington added to the atmosphere of the stories with his whimsical comic art work.

As in so many different aspects of life, it takes many people to produce one effect. The RED & BLUE is just one more example of how many people under the artful eye of an advisor can succeed in providing a large group of people with entertainment, education, opinion, and sports.

Saying the 1981-82 Girl's League was a huge success would not be giving the Girl's League council the credit due them. Abby Conkle nobly lead the council in sponsoring a Mother-Daughter, Father-Daughter and Autumn Prom that were admirable contributions to the tradition of excellence at K.H.S. Abby was not alone in her success. She was aided by willing hard-working officers. Mrs. Schulte and Miss Clevinger were always there to lend the League their wisdom and guiding light.

The success of Girl's League was expressed by the thoughts of Abby Conkle when she said, "My experiences with the Girl's League Council this year have been very meaningful to me. We had an excellent council to work with and everyone was so willing to help out in any way. I think this was the main reason why all of our activities this year were so successful."

Next year's council will most likely be just as successful as in the past even with the loss of Miss Winslow as a sponsor. Everybody is sure that the Girl's League projects are left in good hands with the council for next year.

It seemed that through the 1981-82 school year every extra-curricular activity continued to flourish. The KHS Boys' Legion was no exception.

The annual KHS Boys' Legion clean-up day and the Stardust Prom were both in themselves tremendous successes.

Jeff Revolt commented on the clean-up day saying, "It was a wild time! It was cold and we worked hard, but we still found time to enjoy it a 'heck' of a lot."

Vince Davis said, "This was my first time participating in the campus clean-up and I liked it as much as my mushroom collection."

When David Lytle was asked about the clean-up he replied, "I didn't go," but went on to say, "A clean campus is a happy campus!"

The Stardust Prom was a success (as usual). Ray Porter added, "I like the smell of rented clothing and expensive flowers, but the best part was the decorations."

Juniors Say "Aloha"

Aloha Seniors, was the theme for this years Junior-Senior Party. The party is given by the Junior class in honor of the Senior Class.

The Juniors really did a great job with the decorations. The commons was transformed into a Hawaiin resort with palm trees, fishnets, and flowers. One could tell there was a lot of ingenuity put forth into the games which consisted of the Crab-Grab, the Limbo, bomb Pearl Harbor, and an improvised version of Pin the Tail on the Donkey.

Teresa Bender commented, "I thought the decorations went well with the theme. A lot of people dressed accordingly, making it more realistic. The shirts about blinded me! But I thoroughly enjoyed it."

Delbert Blanton added, "The night was one to remember. I think the seniors had a good time as well as the juniors. It was a shame that the bathroom had to be destroyed."

Missy Lytle concluded with, "The Junior-Senior, in my opinion was a great success. Everyone seemed to be having a great time and no one seemed to be left out."

Stardust: Our

Girls running around the house saying they're not going. Guys trying to decide what type of flowers to get for his date. Picking out dresses and tuxedoes. Trying to match colors. These are all included in the pre-prom activities. This year's Stardust is said to have been one of the best ever. The decorations were nice and simple, but the major factor for the success was the band called Shadowfax.

Sophomore Theresa Jansen said of the evening, "I really enjoyed the prom. The decorations complimented the excellent choice of music. The band was great."

The major event of the evening was the crowning of the 1982 Stardust queen. "Who would get it?" was on the minds of everyone. Their curiosities were satisfied when Lisa Walker was elected as regent.

"It was a great honor to even be nominated for queen out of all the senior women. I didn't really expect to get it. When Kevin announced my name as winner, my knees went weak. I felt grateful for being chosen."

An important part to KHS sports events are the cheerleaders. They are there to support our teams and also they honor KHS with their awards. Debbie Gatman, member of the varsity squad commented, "This year of cheerleading was very exciting. We spent long hours practicing and I felt we were all dedicated to cheerleading. We achieved many things that we had set out to do in the beginning. I have many great memories from this year of cheerleading." They competed in many competitions this past summer including the Elkhart County fair where they received a first place, but were disqualified for being ten seconds over the time limit, the Howard County fair where they got another first place rating and the State Fair where they received third place out of eighty-five varsity squads. Senior Angie Lamberson stated, "Cheerleading has been a very important part of my life and being successful has made it even better. Kokomo Forever!

Mr. Frank Moore shows his Wildcat Spirit while wearing a "Love Those Cats" cap during the Kokomo — Haworth game. (rp)

The word spirit has a double meaning. It could either be a supernatural being or the enthusiasm shown by a group of people. In the case of Kokomo, it could only mean the support and backing of the Wildcats.

The support for the Wildcats can be shown in many different ways. For the athletes of Kokomo it means being in the Script-K or K-Club blocks and for a few, it means being in the cheerblock. For the rest of the student body, it means dressing up on Sectional Dress-up Days. These days included Punk-rock, Red & Blue, Hawaiian, and Red & Blue Sweat.

Even though a lot of adults believe that the spirit of Kokomo High School is gone forever, they are proven wrong every time Kokomo is in a game or event. Kokomo Spirit is here FOREVER!!!

The pages of memories and events that arrive at the end of the summer are the finished products of months of work. And where it all begins is in Sargasso Business. It takes a great deal of money to publish the book and the first step is advertisement. The staff spends many weeks going through the town visiting various businesses. Although this is an important part of their work, it doesn't end there. They are also responsible for the taking and sorting of underclassmen pictures and various other responsibilities. Staff member Ronna Allen said, "Although this was only my first year on the Sargasso Business staff, I feel I have learned a lot. It was work, but I had a lot of fun at the same time. I have met many people and I have learned that much more work than I imagined goes into our yearbook." The staff is under direction of Mr. Wayne Luttrell and the Business manager Trent Turner.

"With the economic situation the way it was, it was really tough trying to make money. We tried a few new things this year, and over all did about as well as anyone expected," stated Trent Turner.

With an operating budget of $7500, the business staff payed for the printing and distribution of each issue, purchased new cameras and light equipment for their photographers, and bought hard bound copies of this year's paper for each senior staff member. GODSPELL

Kokomo High School Choral Department presented "Godspell" for the annual spring drama production. "Godspell", originally directed by John Michael Tebelak, is based upon the Gospel according to St. Matthew. The production was directed by Susan Brooks, Choral director, and co-directed by Ray Porter, junior. The cast, combining song and dance routines, wore improvised costumes and used pantomine, dancing, puppetry and short skits while acting out the parables of the Gospel. Senior cast member Michelle Hopkins commented, "Godspell was the best drama production I have ever been involved in at K.H.S. not only was it an emotional musical, but also an enlighting one. Since the cast members were so delighted, the whole production was a comfortable, well-rehearsed presentation."

Language Clubs: Keeping Busy

The various activities offered by the foreign language clubs add variety and excitement to our school activities. These clubs have become very active throughout the past few years. Some of their activities include Christmas parties, Halloween parties, initiations, the Mayfest, and the soccer tournament. The 1982 Student Council did many new and exciting things this year. The Council's officers consisted of President Abby Conkle, Vice president Brian Oaks, Treasurer Michelle Hopkins, and Secretary Elizabeth Button.

The Kat-Callers — a list of every student's name, address, and phone number — were organized and distributed by the Council this year, the first year since 1977.

Later on in the year, the Council experimented with a completely new activity at KHS, Computer Dating. Each student filled out a questioneer, dropped the answer sheet in the "Love Bucket," and, after the computer evaluated each student's application, they were presented with a list of ten names from which to choose a date. The computer "fix-up" was a huge success.

The Student Council was also busy with their regular activities. First, at Christmas time, the Senators collected money for the Salvation Army, an annual good deed. Then, for Valentines Day, the Council distributed carnations and made the most money ever, $500.00, in the three years of selling the flowers. And for their final bash of the year, the Council sponsored the Sadie Hawkins Dance. This year was the second consecutive year for the dance and the Officers and Senators did an excellent job of conducting it. Consequently, it was another great success to add to the Council's list of outstanding achievements.

Kathleen Kiley

"When asked to recap the Student Council's 1981-82 year, there are so many things that come to mind. The carnation sales, Sadie Hawkins dance, Kat-Callers, and the computer dating match-up all played a major part in the Council's success. It is my belief that last year's Student Council not only lived up to the great KHS traditions of the past but also set new standards and began new traditions for the future."

If one were to have walked into the debate office sixth period during the 1981-82 debate season, one probably would have seen Kevin Klemme, John Zimmerer, and Mr. Sutton engaging in a violent game of backgammon. But this, fortunately, was only a secondary event on the debator's daily agenda.

The debator's main job in the sixth period class was to gather information on the 1981-82 season topic, education. Debate was not simply a classroom subject. Debate extended into the afternoons, Saturday meets, and hours of Sundays at the downtown and IUK libraries.

Because debate took so much extra time, one had to be somewhat devoted. These devoted KHS students were: Seniors, Michelle Hopkins, Kevin Klemme, Ann Nolan, Sarah Smith; junior, John Zimmerer; sophomores, Liz Gouge, Sandy Huffer, Rick Reed, David Smith, Jamie Young; and freshmen, Blake Burgan, Pete Herchanroeder, Scott McFadden, Tim McMain, and Toby Ortstadt.

The Script-K block, at the south end of the gym during basketball games, assisted the cheerleaders in raising the spirits of the crowd. During breaks and time-outs, they competed with the K-block in building pyramids. The spirit of the Script-K was also shown in their feelings toward it. Sophomore Lee Anna Basham showed this when she said, "To become a member of the Script-K club at the beginning of my sophomore year was a real honor to me."

Now, when you moved to the southeast end of the gym, you will found the K-club backing the team. When Senior John Dempsey was asked his opinion about the club's year he said, "I feel the K-Club and K-block have a great bunch of people this year. People are beginning to identify with the groups more now, than they did in the past. The K-Club has great leadership this year due to all of the seniors in it."

With all the enthusiasm of the Script-K and K-Club, you could tell why they are a big part of this school.

A Challenging Experience

The 1981-82 Speech Team consisted of 23 members under the guidance of Mrs. Sherry Whitcomb who stated, " The team is one of the most co-operative, enthusiastic groups I've worked with. They don't hesitate to tackle a challenge, they are sensitive to the feelings of others and most importantly they are coachable." In order to improve productivity of the Speech Team, enrollment during the sixth period was mandatory. This has been advantageous in providing set practice time and fosters more team feeling. Mrs. Whitcomb appreciated the team's willingness to listen, to try and most of all to care.

Our Way Of Life

A Tacit Tradition

Learning outside of school.

Even though KHS offered many challenging activities such as sports, school publications, and student council to name a few, most student's lives centered around their "off" hours. For it is traditionally known that not all of the learning process occurs while at school or at school activities. Most students discovered the most about themselves and about their future during their social life. This learning occurred during work and play.

"Between working-out for baseball, working four to five days a week, ice-skating whenever possible, and cruising with the guys on the week-ends, I kept myself very busy. My mom thought I ran too much but I figured that I might as well do it now while I'm young because I learned a little something about myself through everything I did," commented Mike Banush, senior.

Hobbies, jobs, and fooling around were a part of many students social lives. "I did as much as I could with my friends, because this year might be the last chance I have to go running around with a lot of them," stated Scott Keith, senior.

Not everyone fooled around though, some students worked full time jobs some spent their days under the hood of their car. Ryan McClish, junior, spent many of his "off" hours tinkering around and babying his 1968 Firebird convertible. Ryan said, "When I'm working on my car I don't think of it as work. It is more of a hobby and some day I hope to make a living by working on other peoples cars."

This is one example of the importance of social life for it can be seen that even though KHS offers a lot, students did a measureable amount of their branching out through their social life. This is a tacit tradition that has been inevitable since the school's origin and is still carried on today.

Cello to Radio

"The cello is a very romantic instrument and I am just a hopeless romantic." (rp)

"I aspire to go to Julliard for anything . . . acting, singing, or music. Nothing would please me more. (rp)

When you walked through the halls of KHS you would not have expected to find a cellist, a scuba diver, a race driver, and a person that is a promising disc jockey. Nevertheless, they were part of the everyday crowd and yet not everyone was aware of their talents.

Troy Riley began racing quarter midgets when he was four years old. Since then, he has moved up to full size midgets. When he was sixteen he joined the Car Owner's Racing Association where he placed in the top ten. Troy commented, "This year will be my first in USAC and my goal is to be rookie of the year."

Ray Porter periodically works in the recording room of WWKI and plans to attend college and major in radio, television broadcasting, and theater. He remarked, "I think radio is a great way of reaching people and it is being used now more than ever."

Robin Ligon started playing the violin at the age of nine, but hated it and accepted the cello two weeks later. Since then, Robin has played in the Kokomo Symphony for two years and the Carmel Symphony for one year. Off the subject of music, Robin said, "I'd like to explore drama, but since I had no opportunities, I couldn't find my capabilities."

Fashion is a continously changing event. Today's fashion is much like that of the 1950's. Many of our parents wore clothes similiar to ours when they were in high school. This would include the famous oxford — cloth buttoned down shirt, kilt skirt, and penny loafers. The students of KHS have shown off their fashionable interest through their dress. Both the guys and the girls have acquired the fashionable clothes. These "preppy" looks include skirts with knee socks, buttoned down shirts with sweaters, knickers with knee socks, the Docksider shoe and duck shoe. Fashionable items are often marked with the designer's name. A few famous white tagged names are Calvin Klein, YSL, Gloria Vanderbilt, Anne Klein, Izod, and Ralph Lauren. Fads are also kept along with KHS's fashions. The most popular one being the comfortable sweat pants and sweat shirts. On many Fridays, the halls contain a great number of sweat suits.

Our Way of Life

The clause "Thank God It's Friday" is frequently heard throughout the halls at KHS before every weekend. Most students anticipate the weekends mainly because they don't have to go to school, and, therefore, can stay out late and enjoy the "Night Life."

Junior David Hogan said, "I like the weekends because they give me a chance to be with my friends and to enjoy myself without the pressures of school."

Sophomore Theresa Jansen looks forward to weekends because, "They provide time for ballgames, movies, shopping, or just getting crazy with my friends."

Senior Jeff Revolt said, "I like to break the monotony of the week by going out with my friends, getting crazy, and having a rowdy time."

ULVER

Is any camp worth 9 summers of your life? Culver Military Academy certainly is to Freshman Blaine Powers.

Blaine has been attending CMA for the past 6 years, and he will continue to take part in their school of aviation for the next 3. During his last year, Blaine will receive his pilot's license.

Aside from military exercises, Blaine participated in swimming, cross country, track, and basketball. There were also social activities such as dances, parades, movies, and picnics provided for the student's enjoyment.

Blaine commented, "The people at Culver are the best. And combined with all of the opportunities it offers, Culver makes a great summer!"

Floats . . . R.I.P.

As you might already know, the theme of this year's SARGASSO was "A Continuing Tradition". Last year, "Homecoming Week" fell short of the traditions of the past.

Homecoming consisted of the usual pep rally, powder puff games, and spirit days, however, last year, it was minus one thing . . . FLOATS!

In years past, each class was given the opportunity to build a lawn display that would represent the Kat's Homecoming game. Last year was no exception. Then where were the floats? There is only one answer . . . the students "BLEW IT"!

Unfortunately, along with the competition, floats also brought with them the "incredible, edible, and THROWABLE" egg.

Homecoming week began as usual with inter-class egg-throwing contests. The next day came the warnings from Mr. Moore. Tuesday night brought with it more abusive fun. And Wednesday morning the threats came. Wednesday night proved to be the last straw, for the next morning there were no more warnings, no more threats, and no more floats.

The Stars — n — Stripes

Seeing the American flag flying high over KHS is a sight many students took advantage of. Because without two inquiring senior men, the flag might have stayed in the closet for the year.

During the first few days of school, Mark Miller and Kent Hagebusch noticed that the stars and stripes were indeed not waving.

"Mark and I were curious why the flag was not being raised," commented Kent, "so we consulted Mr. Craig.

"He then explained to us that no one had ever offered to do the task, and he did not have time to put it up himself. After hearing his comments, there was nothing left to do but volunteer.

"Why did we take on the job? Well, we wanted to show our respect for our great country and our school, besides, someone has to do the dirty work!"

Two in a Row

The stage was set. It was halftime of the Kokomo-Haworth basketball game. Kat quarterback Kevin Lechner received the "Golden Helmet" award, not for the first time, but for the second.

Kevin, a 6-1, 182-pound senior, was named the recipient of the award given annually to the outstanding player in the Kokomo- Haworth football game. Kokomo won the 63 point game, 35-28.

Kevin compiled 206 yards after hitting 9 of 11 passes. He also added a record setting 5 touchdowns and 36 yards rushing.

Kevin lead a near perfect offense which combined for 388 yards, no penalties, and no turnovers. Lechner's 206 yards passing and consecutive "Golden Helmet" awards moved him into third place in the city-bowl record books. CONGRATULATIONS KEVIN!

U.S.A. or BUST

Last year Kokomo High School was fortunate to have two foreign exchange students, Adri Rincon and Astrid Templeman. Both were members of the Senior Class of 1982.

Adri, a sixteen year old from Venezuela, was a member of the 1981-82 Girls swim team. After the season ended, Adri continued to swim as a hobby.

"My stay in the U.S. gave me so many new opportunities and experiences. I've learned from them and will always remember my stay here," commented Adri.

Astrid was a first timer in the U.S. last year. She is originally from Holland.

"If you don't go anywhere else than your own country or town, you don't see anything different. I like to see those different things; culture, language, and even food. This was one of the reasons why I came to the U.S.," replied Astrid.

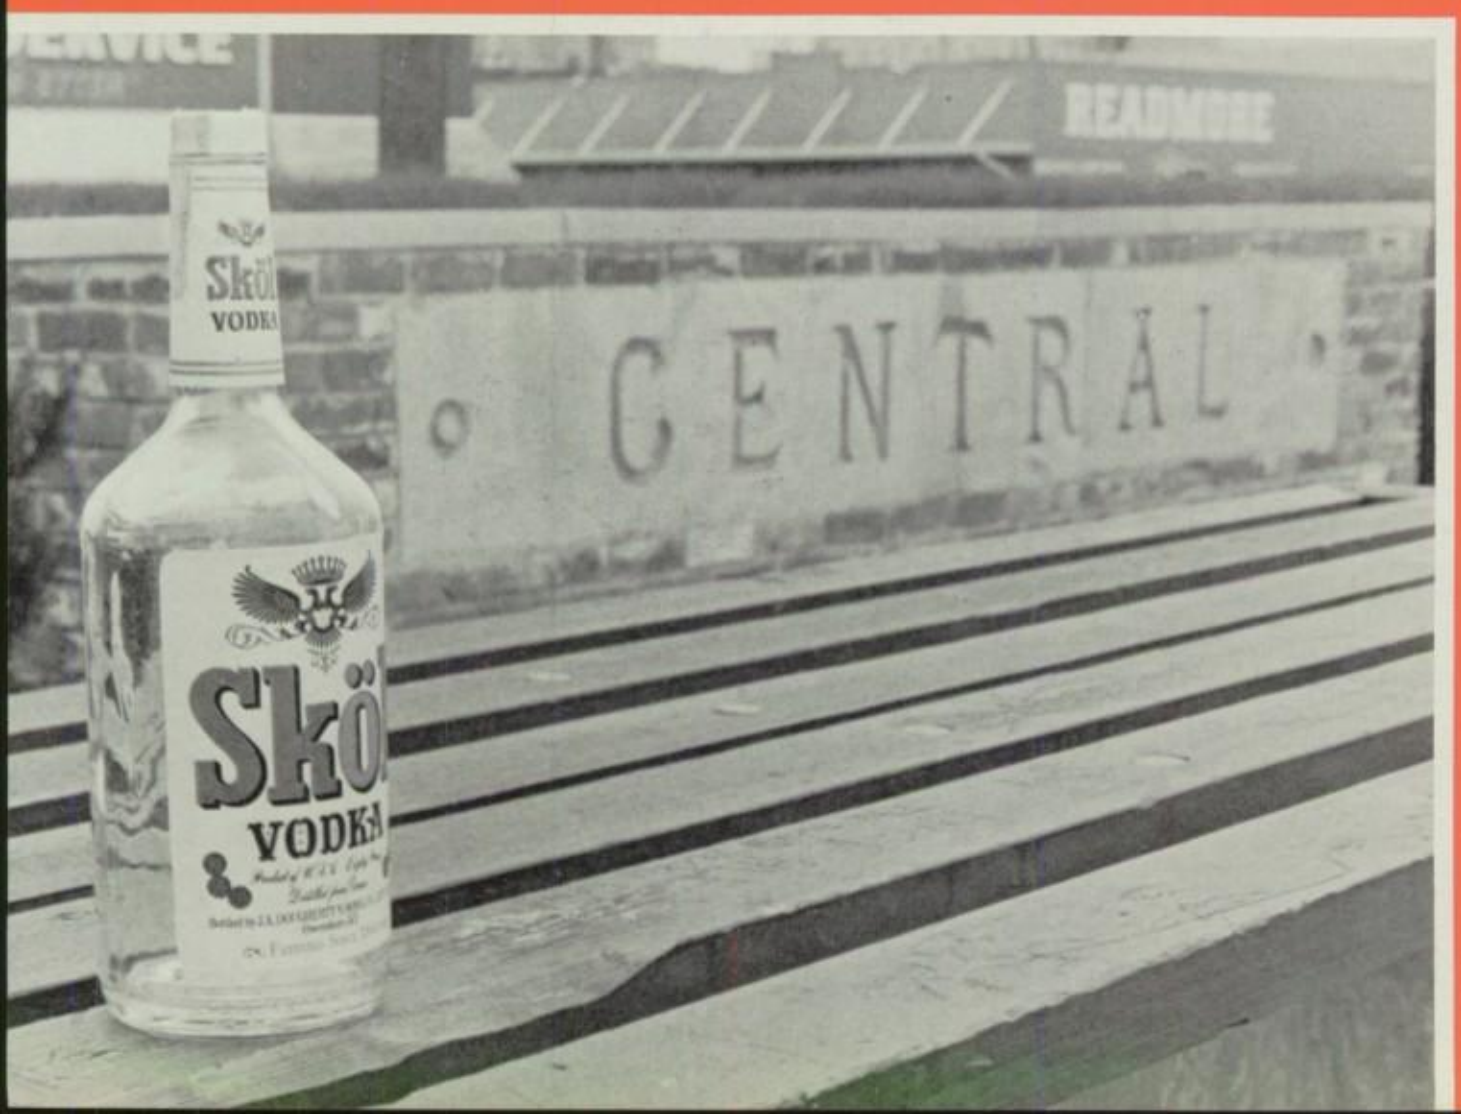
Student Drinking: A Problem?

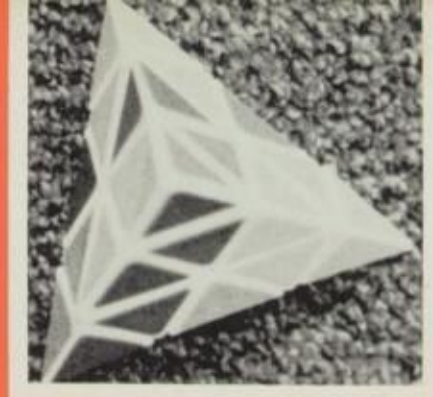
It has been proven that every 7 out of 10 high school students have consumed an alcoholic beverage at least once. Of these 7 students, 3 are problem drinkers.

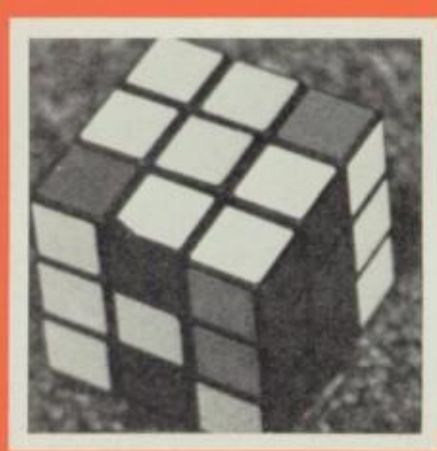
The last statement brings about one question in particular . . . what exactly is a "problem drinker"?

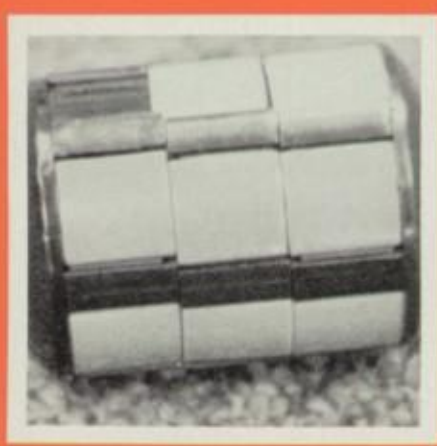
The next 10 questions may be able to provide an answer. After taking this small quiz, if a student was able to compile 3 or more "yes" answers, there could definitely be a problem. WARNING: This test may answer your question TRUTHFULLY.

1. Is drinking harming your reputation?
2. Do you drink more than friends at social gatherings?
3. Are you absent from school as a result of drinking?
4. Have you ever lost your memory or "blacked out" as a result of drinking?
5. Have you ever passed out because of over-drinking?
6. Does drinking leave you with a financial problem?
7. Does drinking effect your homelife?
8. Do you ever drink alone?
9. Has drinking ever effected your overall performance?
10. Does drinking effect your personality?









What has 6 sides, 27 cubes, and is blue, green, orange, yellow, white, and red? Give up? The solution to the puzzle is last year's latest addiction . . . the intriguing Rubik's Cube.

The solid, mind-boggling block was designed so that each layer of 9 small squares could be pivoted around its center without the puzzle falling apart. After mixing the sides, the object of the puzzle is to return all 6 of the faces back to their original color. If one can master this task, he is considered to be a "cubemeister".

In 1980, approximately 4.5 million cubes were sold. Last year, 1981, the projected sales figure was 4 times that amount. For the price of $5 to $15 one could buy himself 43 quintillion combinations, frustration, and many possible hours of enjoyment.

Keeping Up With The Times

KHS offers something for everyone.

Past to present, KHS has centered around its academic life. In past years more emphasis was placed on the graduating of students for life after high school with a background enabling them to get a start in the job world; yet, it also was equipped to guide those with higher ambitions for their future years in college. As times have changed, and college has become more the rule than the exception, KHS has kept up its fine tradition of preparing students by keeping in step with the times. KHS has added to its curriculum more college preparatory courses; however, it has not lost sight of the individual and his or her unique identity. KHS has updated its English, Math and History departments. Students are now offered a phase elective program in English, where there is something for everyone. Math students can be taught new math processes on computers and in the History dept., students have their own lab area where world affairs from past to present can be found.

Students whose interests lie elsewhere can branch out their talents in KHS's Fine Arts department by drawing or painting, singing or dancing, sewing or cooking, or whatever else the desire which may help mold possible future careers. Those who do not seek further education can be prepared for the business world through KHS's CO-OP and Industrial Arts departments. As quickly as times have changed so has KHS, where there still is something for everyone.

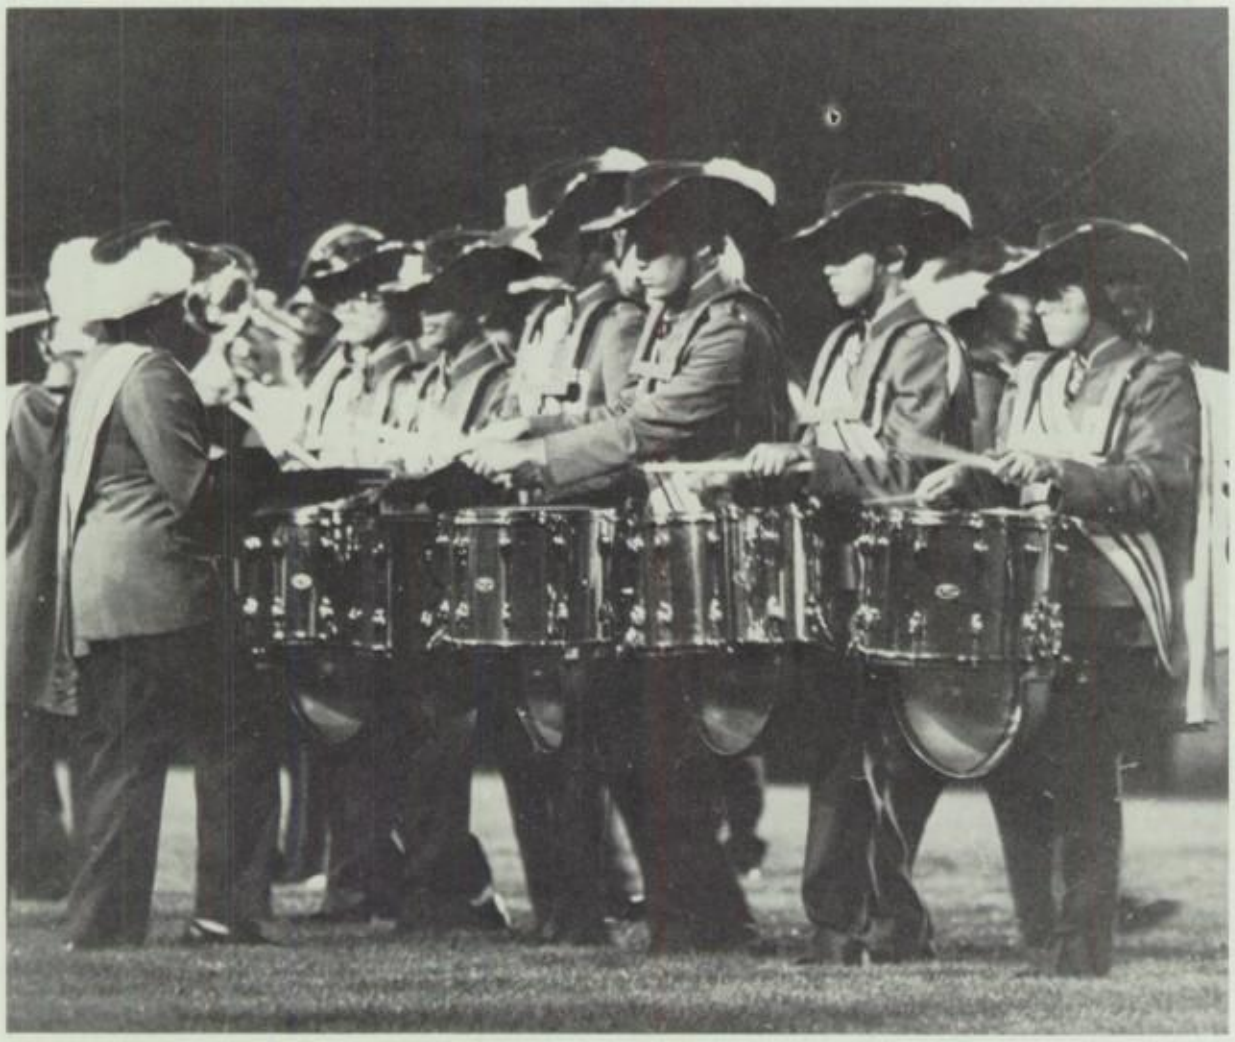
Hard Work Brings Success



Does all the hard work and dedication pay off? The 81-82 Kokomo High School Band seems to think so. The numerous awards and recognitions were not all that the members received. This statement was proven when Junior Morgan Young said, "It has to be said that to be in the K.H.S. Band one has to be dedicated, for you find yourself spending a substantial amount of time contributing to the cause. But, like in so many different aspects of life, it is what you put into it. To me, it built self-confidence and self-esteem which apply not only to band but to everything I do."

When Sophomore Martha Saul was asked what band had done for her, she said, "Band has taught me responsibility and leadership over the past two years. I have met a lot of people and I have made many friends. All the time spent practicing is worth it, especially since we've done our best job this year. Our percussion section won numerous awards and our Drum Majors and Kokettes have brought home awards too!! Band is a very worthwhile activity."

The band had represented Kokomo High School several times this year including placing ninth at the marching Bands of America contest in Whitewater, Wisconsin. With all the effort put into the band, we the students of KHS tip our hats in saying, CONGRATULATIONS!!

The Media and Audio Visual Centers provided K.H.S. students with continuous assistance throughout the year. Both of these centers dealt directly with the needs of each student or teacher.

The media center produced a quiet atmosphere for reading, researching, studying, and relaxing. Since 1968 the volume of books increased from 16,084 to 17,200 which allowed an even better selection of research material.

The audio visual center furnished teachers with various equipment such as T.V.'s, film and movie projectors, and video tape machines which aided in the education of students. Anne Levy replied, "The Kokomo High School Librarians and A.V. instructor have provided students with excellent assistance throughout the year."

They sang at hospitals, nursing homes, middle schools, and office parties. They also entertained the North Central Association of Evaluators last fall when they were here.

Member of the Jazz Ensemble Cathy Cameron stated, "This is my second year in Jazz Ensemble and I think after I graduate I'll look back on it as the high-light of my high school years. I've enjoyed learning the numbers and working with the people. Jazz to me . . . is like a second family."

The class was dismissed every day after a short while for the students to go to work.

DECA member Terry Denton commented, "I liked getting on the job experience and also getting credits for your job." Although many students see it as a way to get out of school early, many just enjoy the change from the regular class day.

Sophomore Missy Miller says, "Drivers' Ed. is fun, but the simulators do not give me the actual feeling of driving."(rp)

While most of the students at KHS are in the classrooms struggling with difficult courses, some others are out driving cars. These students are taking the Drivers' Education course. This semester course is divided into two nine week sessions. One session is completely devoted to studying the drivers' ed. book and the other is divided between the simulators and the actual driving.

Some students who complete the driving course before their sixteenth birthday have trouble staying out of the drivers' seat or, in other words staying out of trouble. One case of this is the Mark Waldron encounter.

The sophomore states, "As I was suspiciously cruising on my motorcycle, I noticed the flashing lights of a police car following me. I tried to act cool so the policeman wouldn't suspect that I didn't have my license yet, but when he asked me to show it to him, I knew I was caught. He took me to the juvenile intake center and called my parents. When they arrived at the center, they were called to a talk session with the policeman and the lady in charge of the center. They found me guilty and sentenced me to write a ten page report on "Why I Won't Do It Again".

Steve explains, "I was cruising the strip, Washington Street, when I pulled up next to a cop. I was scared to death, but tried not to show it. I just acted like I knew what I was doing. Luckily, I was convincing enough. So when the light turned green and the cop went straight, I turned and went directly home."

These are just a couple examples of how sophomores cope with the anticipation of obtaining their licenses.

"Taking Care

Many business courses are offered at Kokomo High School. Most students at K.H.S. take advantage of these classes because they are so helpful. Senior Kathi Collins commented, "I feel that the business courses that I take, Marketing and D.E., will help so when I get a job I have some idea of what to expect and I'll feel more confident and experienced."

Most students feel the same way. Senior Cathy Beach said, "I'm taking business courses because I plan on majoring in business at I.U."

Every seven years, a North Central Evaluation team (N.C.E.) reviews Kokomo High School's curriculum, teaching staff, and student facilities to name just a few. The N.C.E. team consists of teachers, principals, and school board members from around the state.

Upon the reviewing of KHS's English Department, they were greatly pleased, finding few faults. The team supported our Phase Elective system which offers students a wide variety of classes that suit their needs. They found the atmosphere to be a friendly one between students and teachers.

As quoted from the report on the English Department by the N.C.E.

"The English Department at Kokomo High School is superior in every respect. There appears to be a very professional relationship among staff members and a good rapport between teachers and students."

One member of the team was so enthused by our program that she mentioned leaving her present position as head of her school's English Department and transferring to Kokomo.

Such Language

Our Gray Matter

When a student takes a foreign language course it's either under his own will or under parental pressure. At the end of each year many Wildkats have learned many different words or phrases. Despite the range of grades no one could say they didn't learn something new.

This year students had different views of why they took a foreign language. April Cox, freshman first year Spanish student states, "I wasn't sure which language I wanted, I heard Spanish was fun and I decided to take it. I've found out it is really very interesting I like knowing something other than English."

Another viewpoint was expressed by Shelli Shoffner, "I always wanted to go to France so I thought I should know some of the language."

The foreign language department had two new additions to the staff this year Spanish, French teacher Susan Stouse and Spanish teacher Debra Croxton. Miss Stouse said, "This year there is one question I'm frequently asked. Since I teach at both Kokomo and Haworth, my classes at both schools want to know who I will root for at the games. The answer? 'I.U.'."

Mrs. Croxtem said, "I'm very much impressed with the attitude of the students and with the administration. I also like the way the school day is run."

The health and physical education classes at KHS are comprised of the forementioned skills and other factors as well. Health and P.E. are taken mostly by freshmen and sophomores who are eager to get one of their many state requirements for graduation out of the way.

Junior Chris Lucus said the reason she is taking one of the many Home Arts' classes is, "I am taking Child Development because I enjoy working and taking care of little children. I also plan to work with children in the future for my career."

Now, since you have visited the Home Arts, you might have found yourself through the doors of the Industrial Arts Vocational area. Of course as soon as you entered the doors, you heard saws, drills and every machine you can think of.

When asked why he wanted to take Industrial Arts, Sophomore Rodney Hester responded, "I'm taking Design Drafting because I might become an architect or I will at least go into a field where this experience will help me."

KHS Artists Display Talents

Art classes have been offered at KHS since the school was first built. These classes offer something extra for the students. It enables them to get away from the poundings of reading, writing, and arithmetic. There are different types of art courses offered at KHS. These include Survey I and II, Painting and Drawing I through IV, and Crafts I through VI. Any student enrolled in KHS art classes is eligible to enter the National Scholastic Art Competition which is held in Indianapolis. In the contest there can be "blue ribbon" finalists, national honors, and the Hallmark Honor Prize. The work may be done in oil acrylics, ink drawings, pastels, crayons, charcoal, and mixed media. Senior Angie Lamberson, who has been a four year art student, commented, "During my Sophomore year, I entered a pastel drawing in the National Scholastic Art Competition. It placed in Indianapolis and went on to New York. I have enjoyed the art classes here at KHS. Mr. Walters has been very helpful. I am now planning to major in art at Indiana University."

KHS PROGRAMING

Kokomo High School offered a variety of math courses. The variety ranged from the basic General Math course to the complicated Calculus class. Last year KHS also offered a Computer Math course to students. This class was started in 1980 when it was only offered during sixth period. This year, the class was extended to two periods due to the increase in the number of students signing up for it. In these computer classes, students are to prepare their own programs which they are often quizzed over and they also take tests over the computer programs. Since computers have become a necessity in today's business world, students are realizing that the class could be extremely beneficial. Senior Brian Oaks commented, "I think the computer class will help me a lot because I am planning to go to Purdue and major in engineering. I know I will be taking more computer classes in college so I am glad that I can take this class during high school so that I will already be familiarized with them."

Test tubes, viles, microscopes and Bunsen burners are all commonplace items found in a science room at KHS. Within these rooms teachers offer students choices between physical, earth-space, chemistry and toxicology science courses.

Freshman John White commented, "Biology is helpful to me because I learn many things about the world around me. Discovering what the smallest things in the world look like and learning why they are the way they are fascinates me and my classmates."

Little professor Ginger Brankle remarked, "Physical science is an experience that is always worth while. Through this class I have learned about many things that I have never even heard about."

Senior Michelle "Red" Durham added, "Chemistry is an exciting class. There's a lot of hard work involved, but we mix the hard work with fun and that's how we learn."

Ray "Darkroom" Porter said, "I found physical science to be rather challenging and sometimes even enjoyable. Although I wouldn't advise everyone to take a science class, it can prove to be an informative class."

Many interesting things were achieved this year in the Social Science Department. Ms. Nancy Allman took two students, Marchann Brown and Morgan Young, to Lugar Day in Indianapolis. At the symposium they heard debate-like sessions dealing with today's situations. They also participated in question and answer sessions.

Marchann Brown said of this event, "I felt that it was a worthwhile experience. I learned about the draft versus the volunteer army, and nuclear energy. Instead of attending the final session dealing with President Reagan's budget cuts, I listened to Senator Richard Lugar field questions."

Mr. Rick Sutton's Social Studies classes played a game entitled "Current Events". The game informed students of topics in the news and their importance.

In Mr. Jim Beigh's Psychology class students participated in experiments with mice, The purpose of the experiments was to explain the process of human learning. It was shown by giving mice stimuli such as food for a reward after doing a "trick" performed by the mouse.

Mr. Beigh stated, "Many people who study psychology hope to find out why their friends and relatives act so funny."

Wildcats Battle a Case of 'Bad Year'

1982, proved to be a stroke of bad luck to last year's football team until . . . there was 1:26 left in the game, and Kokomo was on the 11-yard line. It was Kokomo's last chance to score, and they were down by 1 "big" point. The ball was snapped. Lechaner went back to pass. He couldn't seem to find an open man. Wait, there was Revolt in the end zone. Lech let it fly . . . Revolt's got it . . . TOUCHDOWN! The Kokomo Kats defeated their cross-town rivals the Haworth Huskies, by a score of 35-28.

From day one, sports have always played a large part at Kokomo High School. Of course KHS Basketball blends in well with "Hoosier Hysteria" and has formed a sort of "Wildcat Hysteria" of its own.

Girls golf also conformed to the winning tradition at Kokomo by capturing second in The All-County Tournament. The Girls also started their own tradition by stroking their way to their first Regional appearance ever.

Boys swimming also added to the winning KHS tradition. The boys stroked-up a blazing record and sent individual swimmers to the State Championships. The tankers had an impressive second place finish in the North Central Conference.

The list goes on and on. KHS athletic teams continued to add victory after victory to the ever growing log of awards. KHS athletics have proved themselves to be winning combinations . . . this is a continuing tradition.

Receive Awards

Even though Kokomo's 1981 football season was not a winning one, many KHS players displayed excellent talent. Several players received awards for their good playing. Senior Joe Etherington received the Honorable Mention for his outstanding performance. Joe was also this years team captain. Junior Phil Schrieber was named to the All-Star Team due to his seasonal playing. Another outstanding player was Senior Kevin Lechner who received his second Golden Helmet Award along with being named the NCC Quarterback of the year. Lastly, Senior Jeff Revolt accomplished 700 yards with thirty nine passes during the 1981 season which named him the All-State Wide Receiver. Kokomo High School is very proud of these players, along with the rest of the team. We would now like to say CONGRATULATIONS to all the players who worked so hard during the season.

Cross + Country = Distance

The 1981 Cross Country Team experienced a disappointing 10-11 season. Rick Stucker stated, "Our record was the worst in ten years due to the lack of summer miles. However, this group had the best attitude of any in many years." To conform with area high schools, the National Collegiate Athletic Association and Amateur Athletic Union have set a three mile minimum and a seven mile maximum for cross country running. Most Kokomo meets are run across fields, through woods, and over hills along a 3.1 mile course. Although cross country running is a grueling sport which demands much time and dedication, each runner gains his own self satisfaction.

The Boys' Tennis Team ended the season with a deceiving 3-11 record because Coach Summers' team competed against many of the states top ranked teams. Although there were some excellent players on the team, many of their competitors were just more experienced.

There was an unusual occurance on the Boys' Tennis Team this year. Brothers Tony and Greg Zimmerer, a freshman and a senior respectively, played as partners on the number one doubles team. The began practicing together during the summer and complimented each other on the court. As brothers, they had the opportunity to share insights on their opponents and matches.

Tony and the other underclassmen on the team gained a great deal of experience from the tough competition of this year's season.

Sophomore Darin England expresses his view on the season, "Half of the team were freshmen and sophomores. Within the next couple years these underclassmen will become more experienced and therefore our record should improve. I think we are capable of having a winning season."

I swam for four years mainly because of Polly's encouragement and kindness." The team finished third out of six in the Carroll invitational and they finished in the sectional battle. Up, Out,

The Kokomo High School Volleybal teams, once again, showed their great talents by going one step further this year; to the championship round in the regionals. This is the third year the volleyball team has won twenty or more games. Of their five losses, three of them were dealt by a very strong Clinton-Prairie. This was also the team they lost to in their championship round. Many of the senior girls were recognized for their hard work; Darlene Bowser, all N.C.C.; Allyson Johnson and Darlene Bowser, 1st Team All County; Shelley Clark, Robin Hoagland, and Diana Thompson, 2nd Team All County. Even though the team will be losing eight seniors, Coach Huggler commented, "Next year we'll have six good juniors and five sophomores to build around." Most of these girls returning are from the Reserve team who also had a good season of 11-2.

The Winning Combinations

The reserve football team finished the season undefeated. Some of the players felt that sometimes they wondered if the practice and all the hard work really paid off but then being undefeated was the best thing that happened.

Kim Hinkle said, "I was so happy and proud to be a part of the squad who cheered the team on to winning."

"The freshman football team had a traumatic season this year. There were many days in September and October where we were rained on or rained out. Several boys quit the team for one reason or another. The boys who stuck out the season proved to be the true competitors. I think the team proved how important it is to never give up, because in the end, regardless of score, you're a winner." commented Mr. Bennett.

VB is Catching

The 1981-82 Kokomo Wildcats faced a crippling 9-11 season. A major factor in this heavy-loss year was the broken ankle of starting guard Jim Butcher that he received in a pick-up game.

But, nevertheless, our boys did their best with such hopefuls as starting sophomore, Joe Bailey.

Joe said of his first year on the varsity squad, "I thought it was a real privilege to start varsity as a sophomore and even more of a privilege to represent the class of '84. The playing experience will hopefully pay off in the long run when the Wildcats will once again dominate in basketball."

The sectional tournament proved to be no different than regular season with the area crown going to the Northwestern Tigers giving them two consecutive sectional titles.

Reserve and Freshmen:

The Junior Varsity basketball team finished the season with a 16-4 record. Junior Jeff Fain said, "I was at all the J.V. games and I was pleased with the way they played. Especially when they beat Haworth."

Mike Lushin, sophomore on the team, said, "Beating Haworth really made us all feel great, we wanted to win so bad!!"

The Freshmen "A" team was very good this year with the help of the crowd showing up for the games. Freshman April Cox said, "I was really impressed with the playing of all the guys."

Junior Juanita Crume stated, "I was so impressed with the freshmen, I think they could have played on varsity!"

Kokomo Freshmen "B" Coach, Dirk Hankins stated, "We had a fine season with a winning streak of four games early in the season. Then after loses to Haworth and Lebanon we won our last five games plus avenging a earlier loss to Haworth in our last game of the year.

Andy Weir, Tony Riece, and Tony Zimmerer led the team in scoring with Dave Hanger and Don Imbus completing the starting five." The B team won 9 and lost 2.

The 1982 KHS Boys' Swim Team broke Haworth's eight year sectional championship reign. In addition, the boys finished the year fifth in the state rankings and had a fantastic record of 10-2.

The force behind the swimmers is coach Bob Croll. Mr. Croll, who transferred here three years ago from Highland, has totally changed the swimming program at KHS, and, is now a state powerhouse.

The peak of the season came at the final meet, the sectional. After a previous disappointing loss to Haworth by only four points, the Kokomo Tankers were out for revenge. The Kokomo Swimmers got just that, but it was not until the final event that the Catfish took the lead and secured the win.

Senior captain Rick White said, "We took each meet as it came. This took some of the pressure off of us during the season and, I think, contributed to our success."

Freshman Pat Kiley said, "At the beginning of the season when we set our goals of finishing in the top ten in the state rankings, winning conference, and winning sectionals, everyone thought we were crazy, but we were successful in two out of our three goals."

Girls Take Sectional

Last years girls basketball team won their first sectional title ever in the history of KHS girls basketball. They beat Haworth in the final game and went on to the Regionals where they won their first game against Peru but fell to Marion 54-59 in the final game. Junior Patty Rethlake commented, "We had a good year, and winning the sectionals was a great way to end it." The varsity squad finished the year with a 18-3 record, while the Junior Varsity also came through with a winning season of 7-6.

Senior Diana Thompson commented, "I feel like we really had a good team this year, we could all work well together and I think in the end that's what made the difference."

Team Effort

The 1982 girls' tennis team experienced a disappointing season. With no returning seniors, the netters relied on the experience of Tracy Freed throughout the season. With the return of the underclass and summer practice Coach Sandy Shuck felt next year's team should improve tremendously. Although the team had a losing season, each member put forth their best effort and maintained team spirit.

Jeff Stout commented, "Providing that each player attempts to improve their game this summer, the K.H.S. team could produce an excellent team next spring."

Kats Take Another Swing At NCC

BASEBALL is a word that has brought many different thoughts to a person's mind. Some of these are enjoyment, teamwork, and victories. This year's baseball team will not change anything. When Coach Mike Smith was asked his opinion of this year's team he replied, "We have an experienced ball club with eleven returning lettermen. We are the defending N.C.C. champs and we have set the conference championship as one of our goals this year. Our other major goal is, of course, the repeat as sectional champs."

To aid them achieve their goals the varsity team listens to Cool & the Gang's song GET DOWN ON IT as a pregame fire-up.

With all of the ambitions of the members, the varsity baseball team will succeed.

The Winning Combinations

Andy Renie, one of the sophomores who made up the nucleus of this year's reserve baseball team replied when asked to sum up the season, "I've really enjoyed this year. We've played great ball and had a great time while doing it. The Kubs work together like a finely oiled machine."

This seemed to be the opinion of all the team members. Our reserve team is an outstanding ball club with team work and spirit high on their list. These factors are what brought the Kubs to a high-victory season.

Sophomores Butch Bowlin and Greg Ingle, in a combined effort stated, "We had a good time, and as a coach, Jerry Cook has come a long way. He's incredible! He has helped us obtain a very productive season."

Girls' Track

For a pleasant change, the KHS girls' track team finished the season with a winning record. The girls worked hard and their 7-5 record proved it.

Missy Becker said, "Having a winning season was different but great! We had a small team, but everyone worked hard and broke five school records. We will only be losing two seniors, so if everyone returns, we should have an even better season next year."

Monica Richeson, junior, commented, "I really thought that the girls' track team did a super job. But, the team owes a lot to the underclassmen for keeping the upperclassmen going. I think that next year we ought to be just as good or better than we were this year. I am really looking forward to it!"

The team certainly worked hard and hopefully started a new trend.

The underclassmen of KHS ran with honors this year. The team lost many of their runners last year.

As a result, they had to start out fairly fresh this year and they have been doing very well. The boys placed fourth in the Kokomo relays then went on to win first place in the Muncie relays. Four year member Jeff Revolt commented, "It was hard to motivate myself to run this year, because I was the only senior running distance. I think the coaches, Max Smith and Craig Bennett, really helped me and this helped the team as well."

Junior Tom Cunningham added, "I think we had a pretty good season, but I'm really looking forward to next year because we have a lot of good runners returning."

Wrestlers Win

Team Balance Prevails

Wins, pins, and grins were all a part of last year's wrestling team. After compiling an impressive 7-10 record, the Grapplers of KHS headed into post-season tournament competition. The wrestlers took a 5th place finish in the Sectional, then captured 7th place in the NCC competition.

Highlighting the Grapplers' season were double victories over Western High School, Anderson, and Muncie Central. In addition to their fine record, Kokomo High School wrestling coaches produced some outstanding individuals. Sophomore George Durham placed 2nd in the NCC and 3rd in the Sectionals. Also, senior captain Kevin Hayes, who compiled a 16-7-1 personal record, brought home a 2nd place Sectional finish in the 145 weight class.

Although these were only a few of the winning individuals, the 1981-82 team lacked a champion.

"The 1981-82 Wildcat Wrestlers showed more balance than in previous years as reflected by their improved dual meet record. However, the finishes in the Conference, Sectional, and Regional were testimony to the fact that a champion or two were sorely missed.

"The reserve team had a fine 4-4 record. We are looking for improvement on next year's varsity program with the six returning starters from last year's team plus such reserve athletes as Eric Reed, David Hogan, Jeff Driver, and Mike Imbus," commented future head coach Paul Hamilton.

What A Kick!

Every year, since 1971, the four foreign languages at K.H.S. each form a soccer team and compete against each other. Both boys and girls can participate on the soccer teams. Each student plays on the team according to what language they take. Senior David Jackson commented, "Even with all the roughness of the past two seasons in soccer, I wasn't discouraged about playing my senior year." This year the French soccer team took the title, which meant winning for the third consecutive year.

Senior, Melody Welker commented, "I've played powderpuff two of my four years and really had fun, but this year there was too much unnecessary roughness and cheating."

Junior, Tammy Lockhart responded, "We've really improved in the past few years with the help of our coach Mr. Cameron. Although all the seniors felt we were cheating, I thought it was just hurt pride from the seniors losing their first game." Juniors and the sophomores were the successors from their games. Album — Main Reason for Yearbook

'Sargasso' Means 'A Sea of Memories'

According to the WORLD BOOK DICTIONARY, a student body is a "community" of persons studying at a school or university. The student body at KHS, however, doesn't go exactly by the book.

When someone mentions Kokomo High School, many think of the building, the baseball team, the academics, or the activities. These all represent KHS well, but actually the school is the people. And without the people, there would be no KHS.

It was you, the KHS students who won the goldent helmet in the Kokomo-Haworth football game, placed third at the State Fair Cheerleading Competition, and were rated in the state's top five among swim teams throughout the season.

It was you who distributed the school's first "Kåt Kallers" in years, put up the nation's flag every morning, and sponsored the KHS "campus clean-up".

The word Sargasso means a sea of memories, but without you, who took part in the sports programs, attended the Mother-Daughter, or played at Carver Center, there would be no memories, instead, 200 plus blank pages in this year's book.

The Album is the main reason for a yearbook's existence. The SARGASSO is not made up of the events or stories of the year; it consists of the people who made these things possible . . . YOU!

ADMINISTRATION

Dr. Robert Dalton had the task of keeping Kokomo-Center students in school this past winter. Along with this task he had to supervise everything that happened in the entire school corporation and one of the major tasks was the renovation of Petit Park School. Petit Park School was dedicated on Sunday, November 15, 1981, the first day in American Education Week.

Another problem that faced the Board of Trustees was that of declined enrollment. During the 1981-82 school year, the Board of School Trustees has continued to deal with the effects of declining enrollments and increasingly tight fiscal constraints by making difficult decisions involving the closing of schools, reducing of personnel, and effecting necessary cost cutting measures.

Even though this has been a tough decision-making year Dr. Dalton has easily instructed all of the faculty and students through a tough year.

The highlights of 1981-82 school year as Frank Moore, Principal of K.H.S., saw it were many & varried. Some were uppers & others could be viewed as downers.

The Homecoming lawn decoration contest was canceled due to over zealous competitors declaring open war with poultry products as their chief ammunition. A Downer.

Limitations were placed on yell leaders in their attempt to reach for the sky. A Downer.

Dealing with snow and its resulting problems was a mixed bag. Teachers and students enjoyed several free days. Some played in the snow while others dealt with shovels, stuck cars, and broken furnaces and pipes. He was impressed with the improvement of the girl's basketball team and the boys swim team. Definitely an upper.

He ended by saying, "Other than normal operational problems — It's been a great year. Students have been particularly responsible and responsive to what we are trying to do."

Mr. Frank Moore — '44 "The biggest change I've seen in K.H.S. during the past thirty-five years has been in procedural matters. Thirty-five years ago the administrative people made a decision and that was final. Today both teachers and students have several avenues of appeal through hearings at various levels."

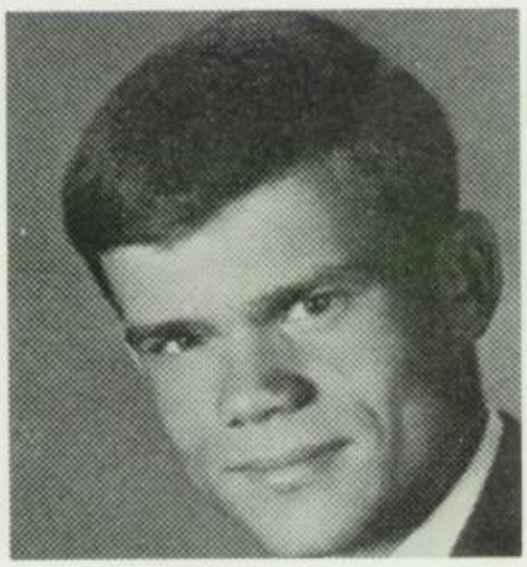
Mr. Kenneth Craig — '46 "No change. Kids are just as "goofy" now as they were in the 40's."

Mr. William Rammell — '48 "Physical appearance — Carpet, no desks fastened to the floor, better lighting, completely new auditorium."

Mr. Gene Turner — '44

Mr. Wayne Luttrell — '60 "When I was in school, girls were to wear skirts or dresses — no slacks. If it was extremely cold, they could wear slacks under their dresses and had to remove them before attending classes. Most girls today would be sent home for improper dress. We live in a much more practical age.

Mrs. Nancy Allman — '56 "once I was a carefree student who thought that teachers had it easy. Now I am on the other side of the desk and the physical change in K.H.S. is small compared to the mental change in me."



Mr. Mike Smith — '65 "The greatest change I've seen in K.H.S. has to be in the number of kids. We had over 3,000 people in 3 grades as compared to 1,400 in 4 grades this year. The building was old and overcrowded. It was almost impossible to move in the halls. It was so crowded that we had one-way up and down stairs. We had classes with 30-35 kids packed into small rooms. Study halls were great. With one teacher watching 200 kids, no one ever knew what was going to happen."

Mr. Joe Dunbar — '61 "In 1961 Kokomo High School was the center of community activities. Today other interests have caused K.H.S. to since become an institution of learning. Ball games, plays, variety shows, etc. do not draw community support like they used to. However, student-teacher relationships have become closer as K.H.S. has become smaller.

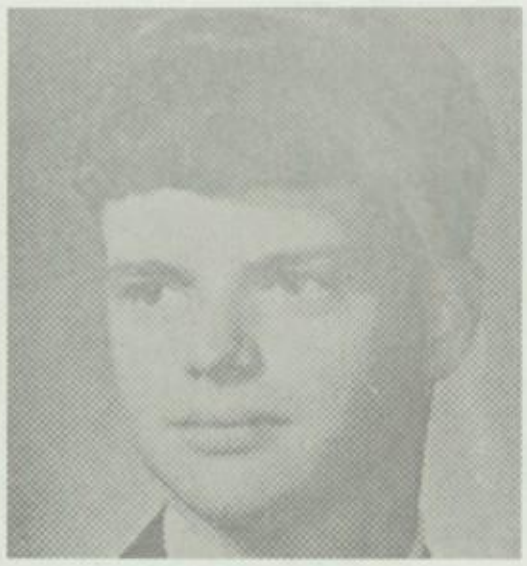
Miss Marjorie Roush — '48 "Being a hall monitor was a privilege! Students now have much more freedom and responsibility."

Mr. William Fox — '49 "In 1949 the look was "Ivy League," now it's "Preppy." The kids then used slide rules, now they use computers. The place to "hang out" was bike racks, now it's parking lots. The kids in '49 were tough today they're cream puffs. When a student didn't have a class he had study hall now he has an open period."

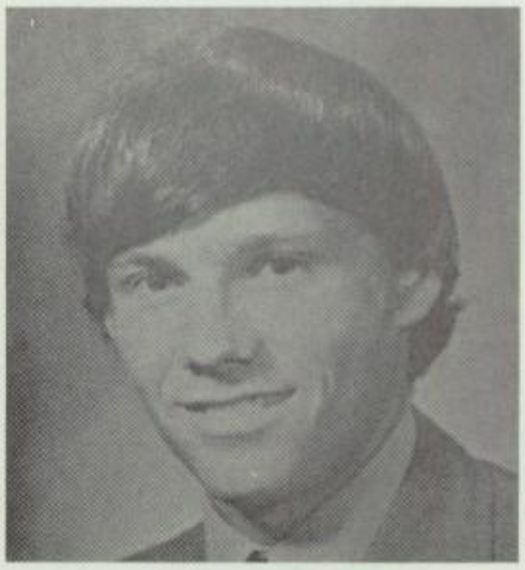
Mrs. Kay Ramsey — '61 "I feel there is more freedom: open periods instead of study halls, no one-way stairs, and no monitors in the halls."

Mrs. Judy Shulte — '63 "The biggest change since '63 is, of course, in the building. I went to an old dilapidated, run-down antique as a student. I teach at a beautiful, modern campus."

Mr. Ricke Stucker — '65

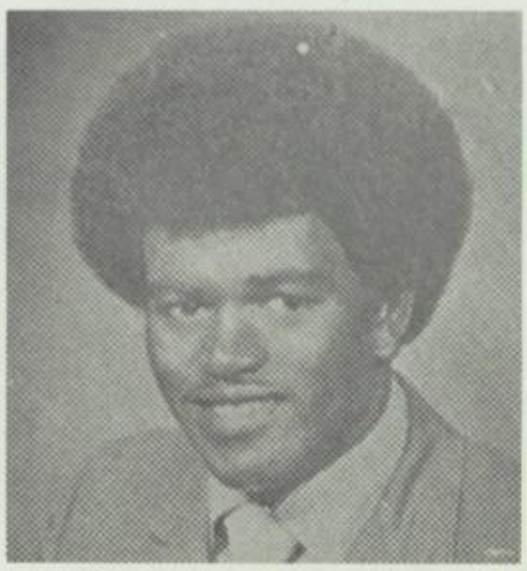


Mr. Rick Sutton — '67 "Nobody wore blue-jeans, (there were no designer labels then), and everybody (seniors included) had study halls. I think students today are much more aware of what is going on around them."



Mr. Dirk Hankins — '72 "On the positive side: students get along better now. I went to K.H.S. from 1968-1972 and there were many social problems then. A lot of fights, school was only open ½ days etc. On the negative side: There isn't nearly as much school spirit today which is a hindrance to ball games."

Mr. Ed Pulver — '67



Mr. Doug Hogan — '73 "The difference between K.H.S. now and K.H.S. ten years ago is the attitudes of the students. Today students seem to have a less positive attitude towards education than when I was a student. Maybe this is due to the jobless situation this country is experiencing along with the rising cost of a college education."

BURRRRRRRR

Was there ever a morning when you woke up and couldn't find your car?

Kathy Lambert, frosh, and Jill Stifle, frosh, anxiously await the mounds of snow soon to come.

RRRRRRRR!!!

The People of KHS

Ten feet high snow drifts, snowball fights, snowmobiling, iceskating, and SNOW DAYS! What an exciting way to spend a vacation! Over half our winter was spent in below freezing weather and Kokomo accumulated up to 110 inches of snow. Our school nurse, Mrs. Aiken even treated frostbite cases. Ear-lobes were most frequent for frostbite. This is due to the fact that a lot of people didn't wear hats. The cases I treated were not severe, just redness of the skin and slight swelling. In all, I've had about 5 cases."

A lot of people had mixed feelings about all the snow and such a long winter. Tracy Freed, junior, said, "I enjoyed the snow days that we had off, but I'm a warm weather person and would rather be out in the sun."

In contrast Paris Alexander, junior, states, "I went skiing and had a blast, but my bottom hurt because I didn't know how to stop so I just had to plop down!"

Jenny King, freshman, hugs her snowman. Have you hugged your snowman today?

Juniors Looking Forward

"I'm looking forward to the responsibilities and challenges of being a Girl's League officer. Miss Winslow will be greatly missed, but the 1982-83 council promises to be an exciting one. The girls seem to be energetic and full of innovative ideas, so I'm sure we'll have a terrific year." — Marchann Brown

"I am looking forward to my senior year because seniors get so much respect as well as the endless number of parties that we will have throughout the year." — Laurie Needham

SENIOR PRIDE!!

"I'm really excited about being a senior next year and having a part in Student Council as an officer. This year's leadership from Abby and the other officers will be hard to follow, but I'm confident that next year will be as successful as this one." — Lori Horner

"Everyone looks forward to their senior year because they lead all other classes. The senior class makes Kokomo what it is each year." — Julie Hief to that SENIOR PRIDE!!

The People of KHS

"I am looking forward to my senior year, because I have waited three long years to be a senior and help lead the school. Everyone throws parties for you." — Marta Ricci

"Even though most look forward to the end of their senior year, I'm looking forward to the year itself. Our class will finally be in control and oh what fun we are going to have. Homecoming activities, the junior-senior party, sports, spring break, and many other memory evoking events are yet to happen. I just can't wait!" — Chris Hood

"I'm looking forward to my senior year because of the authority that is given to the seniors as well as the many parties we will be attending. — Angie Sandburn

"I'm looking forward to picking on the freshman but mainly I'm looking forward to Spring Break '83!!" — Jim Haberfield

Most students are generally well adjusted to the programs and policies of the school by their sophomore year; however, this year's sophomore class was more so than usual. The class of 1984 was especially active in sports and other extracurricular events, and also, they showed great leadership potential for future years. In specific, the spirited sophomore class displayed a great deal of involvement around the basketball sectional. At the pep session, they placed second only to the seniors in the overall spirit contest, and they were well represented at all of the sectional games. This spirit showed that the sophomore class is closely united while being involved in a great deal of school activities. There is no doubt that the 1982 sophomore class is a well rounded, active, and altogether outstanding class.

Mike Reynolds, a member of the class of 1985, was killed while practicing riding his Suzuki RM80 on October 3, 1981.

As a new freshman Mike had not had the opportunity to participate in activities at Kokomo High School. However, he had been active at a younger age in both Little League and PAL football.

Mike was a member of the American Motorcyclist Association from 1977 until his death. During those years he had raced many times on various tracks around Indiana.

Flapjacks and waffles are not usually on the breakfast menu at K.H.S., but the monthly "special" breakfasts have included these tasty items.

The "Happy Cooker", AKA Principal Frank Moore, presides over the waffle iron on his monthly forays into the kitchen. "H.C." Moore said that the breakfasts are a steal and that they have given him an opportunity to invite people to see K.H.S. and some of the faculty and students who would otherwise never come into the building. He also said having these special breakfasts has acquainted more students with the cafeteria and that that helps keep more students as regular lunch customers.

The May breakfast served as a special initiation for a large group of Honor Society students who had been out of town at the time of the regular initiation.

Many faculty members regularly eat breakfast at school and the monthly specials are well attended by this group that is always on the lookout for a bargain.

While school cafeterias are not usually known for gourmet meals, ours has a tradition of providing well prepared, nutritional food at reasonable prices. Another of the continuing traditions that K.H.S. students can remember with pride.

Dress Rehearsal

Class Day is a tradition at KHS. It is not only a day for underclassmen to honor seniors, but for seniors to say goodbye to their younger friends.

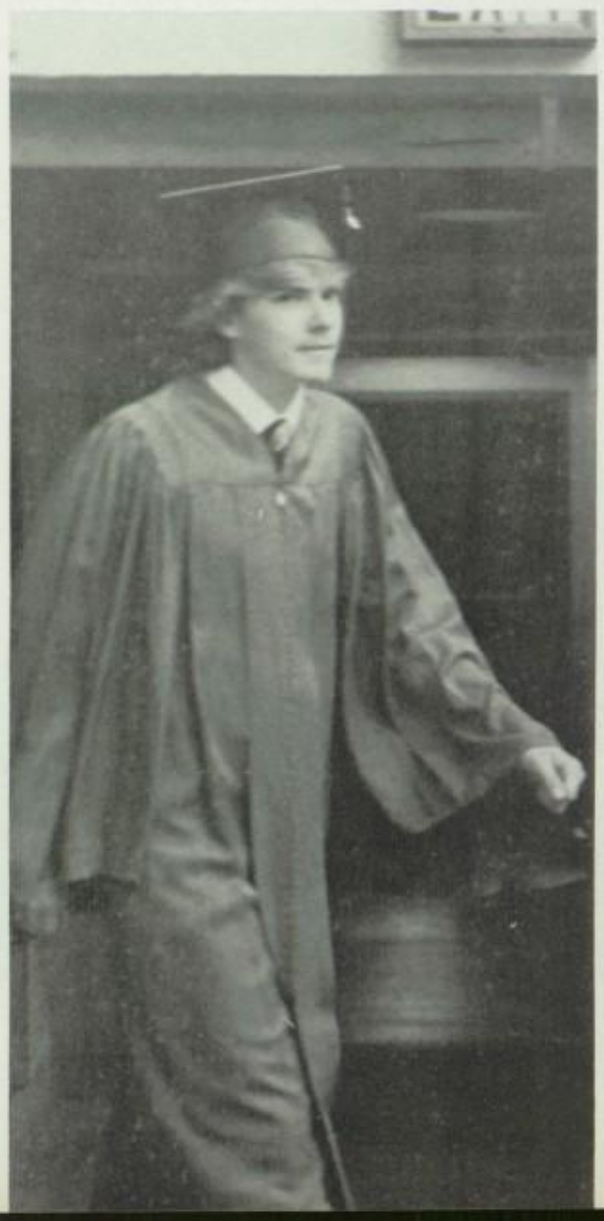
Scholarship recipients and other award winners were acknowledged with the recognition which they deserved. The class of 1982 contained several outstanding students who were presented awards for outstanding achievement in scholastics, athletics, and citizenship.

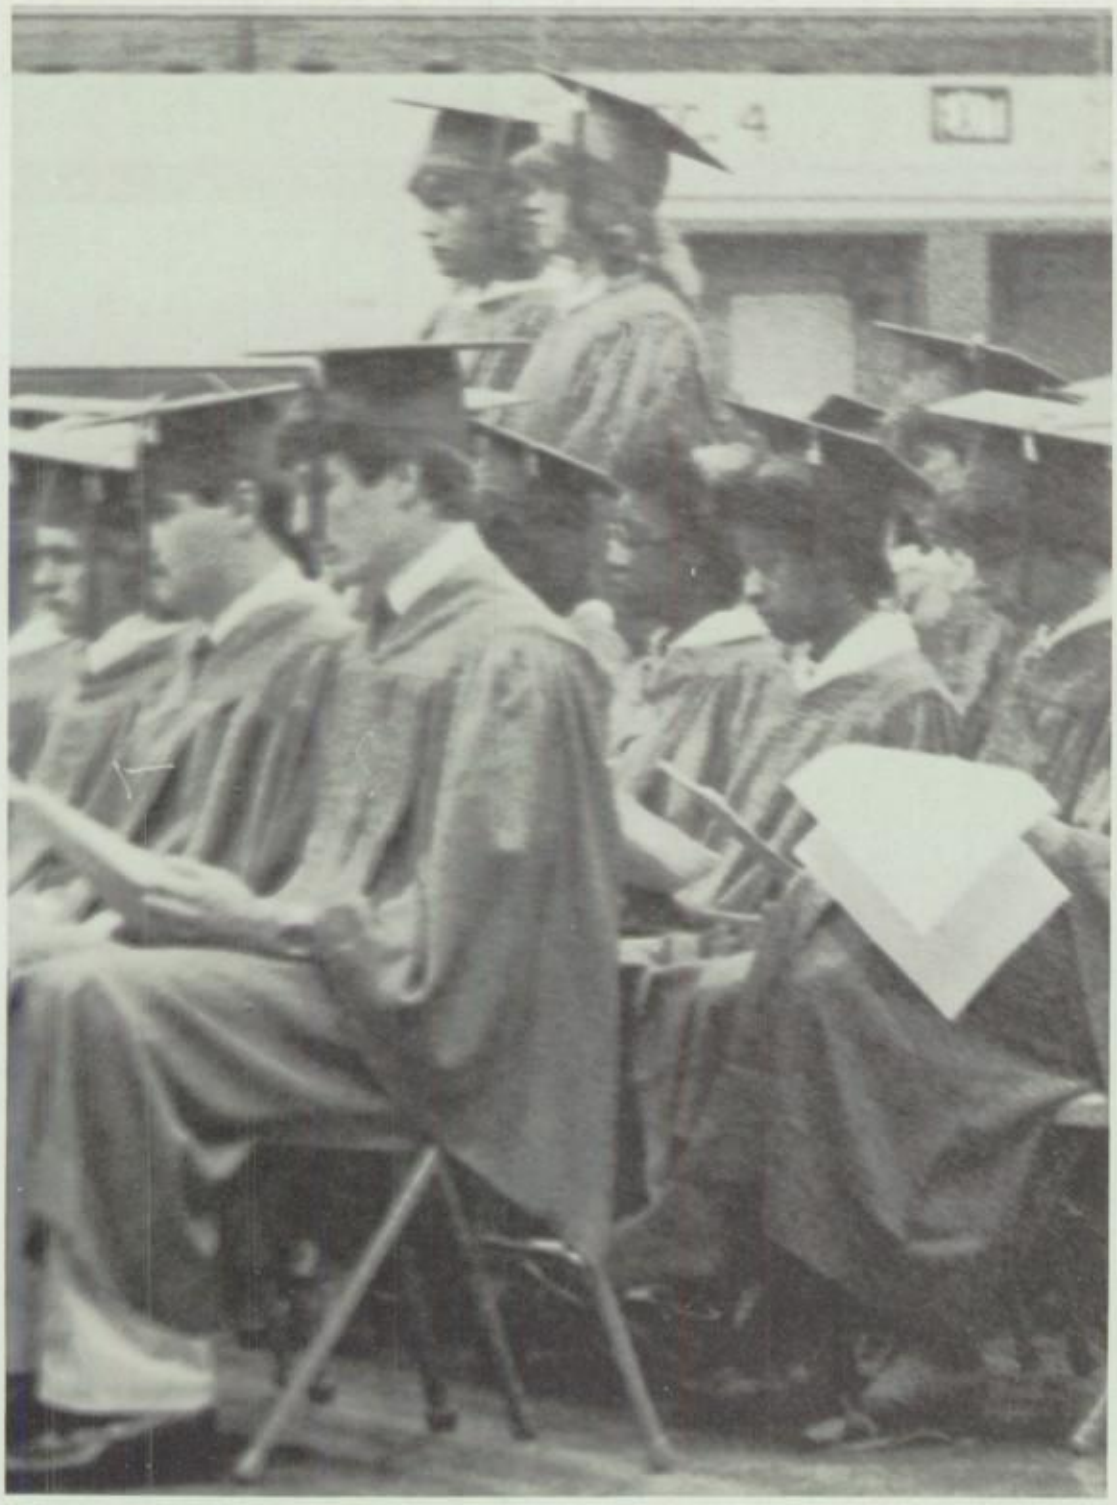
After awards were presented, the senior class formed the traditional honor line outside. Although it started raining shortly after the line was arranged, seniors still had a chance to bid farewell to underclassmen inside.

Underclassmen run for cover as the rain begins to fall.

The underclassmen file through the senior honor line to say a last good-bye before the deluge begins.

Senior Jeff Baxter looks warily at the camera as he walks to take his place among the other graduates.





The Junior class watches as the Seniors give an example of what will happen on graduation night.

Betsy Rich and Sara Smith stand to be recognized for receiving scholarships.

Senior choir members become the center of attention as they sing "The Lord's Prayer."

Adriana Rincon enjoys a happy moment as she waits in the honor line.

Fun in the Sun!

Eggs, balloons, ropes and leather underwear. These were all included in the activities at fun day. Fun day is seen as our upperclassmen's last day to be kids for after this they are pushed out of their fledging nests of high school to face the monotonous terror of the real world! A-ugh!

Teri Lambert, co-editor and mother-figure, commented after catching an egg in her face, "I think I am going to be ill. Get out of my way!

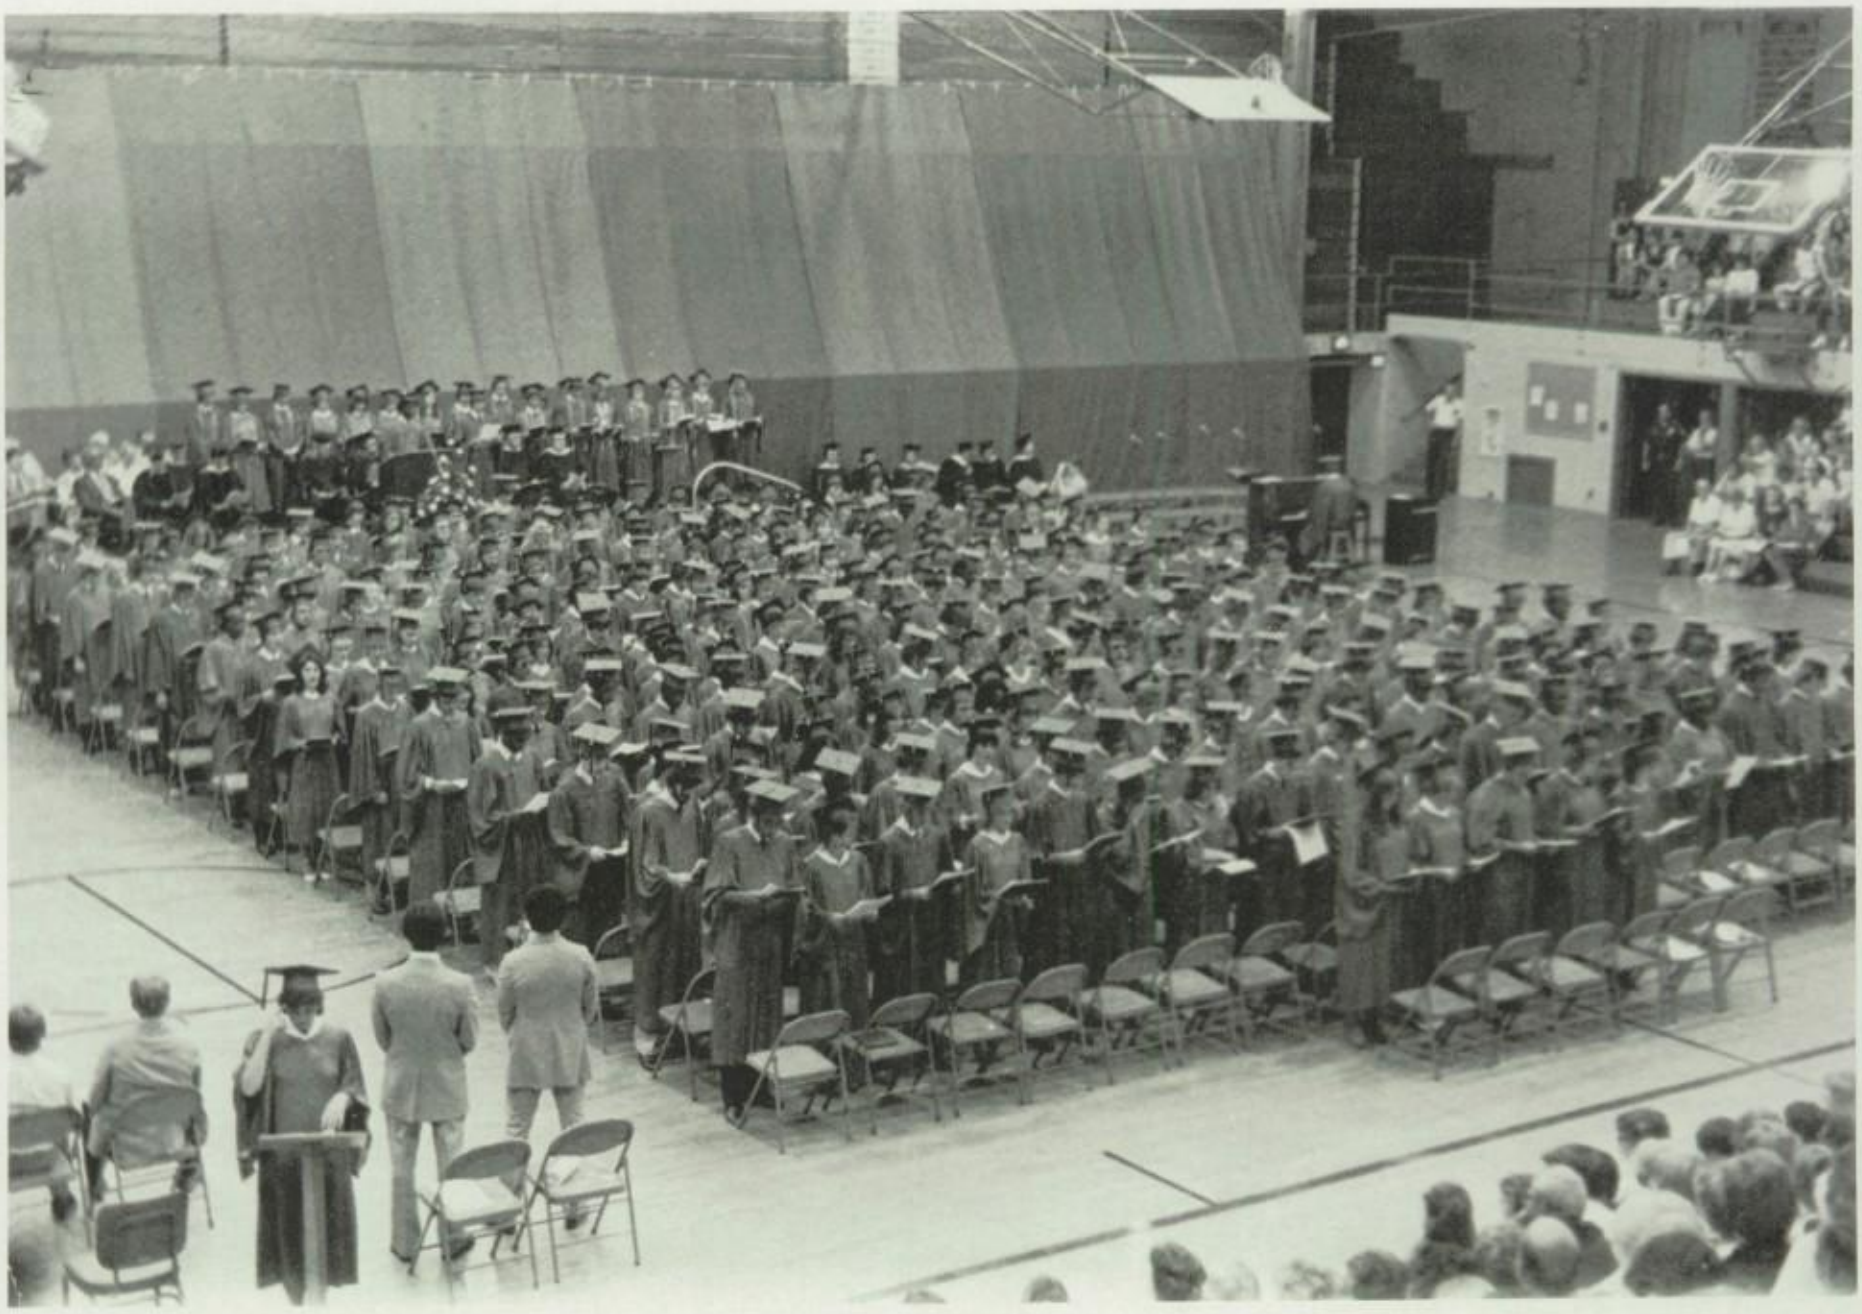
Finally . . .



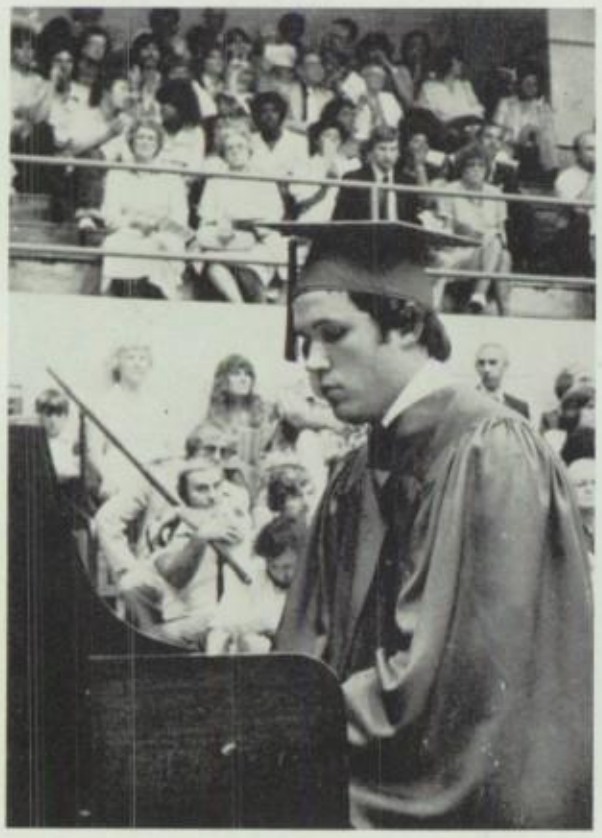
The graduating class of 1982 turns and faces the crowd while singing the class song.

At this moment the seniors now join the thousands as alumni of KHS.

Valedictorian, Abby Conkle, nobly addresses her classmates with wise words of things to come.

Writer of the class song, "On Our Own," Mark Saul, performs to the melody of "Open Arms."

Senior bandsman, Eric McHenry, plays first chair trombone with the band for the last time.



For the first time in KHS history Mary Shelley signed the entire ceremony for the hearing impaired.

Heavy were the hearts of 1982 seniors as their high school career was drawing nearer to the end. And yet among these unhappy feelings were lighthearted sentiments, for a whole world of opportunity was ahead of these graduates.

1982 commencement exercises had a traditional atmosphere and yet presented new and original ideas. Among these was the reverse order of the distribution of diplomas, starting with Z and ending with A. Mary Shelly, a 1982 graduate, added a touch of originality by signing the entire ceremony for the hearing impaired. Also, Shepple Studios photographed KHS graduates as each was presented a diploma.

Graduate Robin Ligon commented, "Somehow I felt my part in the Commencement Exercises was integral — not just because I was one of the graduating seniors, but because I aquired a sense of accomplishment — something everyone should contribute to the dignity of their class."

The senior members of the choral department join in signing the Lord's Prayer.

Leron Russell and Barry Ferguson pretend to be adults now that they are graduates. (rp)

General madness prevails as graduates enjoy themselves at the Final Fling. (rp)

The minutes slowly passed by. The graduated class of 1982 was becoming restless. The moment that everyone dreamed of since the beginning of commencement ceremonies — the "Final Fling!" had finally arrived. As the graduates passed through the bathhouse, they heard the sound of Q 95 and Skyrider, a band consisting of new KHS graduates.

At first, a couple of people were in the water. As the evening progressed several alumni took a dip, whether they wanted to or not.

The evening turned out to be a success in the traditional Final Fling style.

"To earn a decent living, a college education is a must. After graduation, I plan to attend summer school at IUK and continue on to IU in the fall to work on a degree."

— Kevin Edwards

"I'll always remember the freedom we had here at KHS. Most schools don't have that privilege. However, along with the freedom, I had a lot of hard studies to deal with, but it was worth it all!"

— Robin Clark

"For myself I predict a very exciting future. Next fall, I plan to attend either I.U. or Wabash College. The future appears exciting because of its great challenges. I plan to major in chemistry and take other Pre-Med courses, then continue on to medical school."

— Kenny Nicholson

"Am I excited for the future? Of course! It offers me so many opportunities and challenges to choose from!"

— Greg Zimmerer

"When I think about my senior year at KHS, too many things come to my mind for just one thing to stand out. Last year was my first time in the U.S., Kokomo, and at KHS. I made new friends and have many memories that I'll always remember."

— Adri Rincon

"Basketball played a major part in my years at KHS. The life-long friendships that it and high school brought me were the best things that I could have gotten."

— Robin Hoagland

"In my four years at KHS I've learned how to get along with others and, with that trait, I can make the best of every situation I'm faced with."

— Suzie Hoffman

"The thing that stands out most in my mind about KHS is all the new people I met and all the fun we had together. High School was a good experience for me, and I hope I don't lose track of all my friends after graduation. I think I can honestly say that I enjoyed my high school years, and I feel those years had a positive effect on my life."

The Way We Were

"Memories, like the corners of my mind;
Misty water-colored memories of the way we were.
Scattered pictures of all the smiles we left behind;
Smiles we gave to one another of the way we were.

Can it be that it was all so simple then.
Or has time rewritten every line?
If we had the chance to do it all again,
Tell me would we; could we?

Memories, may be beautiful and yet,
Those too painful to remember we simply choose to forget.
But it's the laughter we will remember,
Whenever we remember the way we were."

The People of KHS

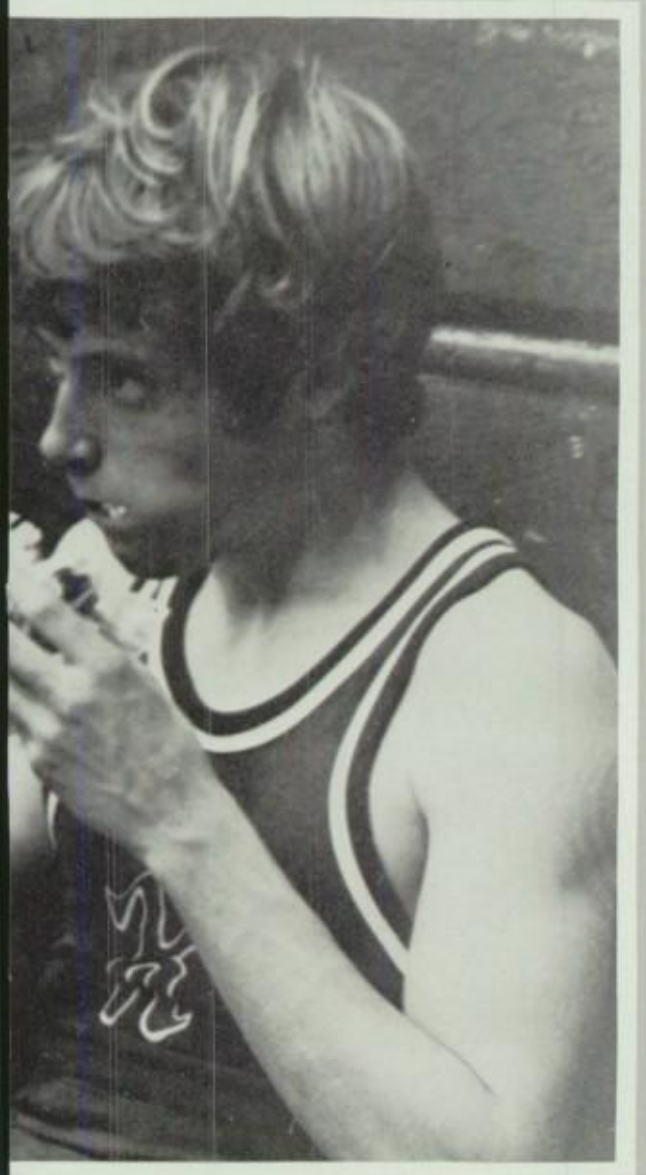
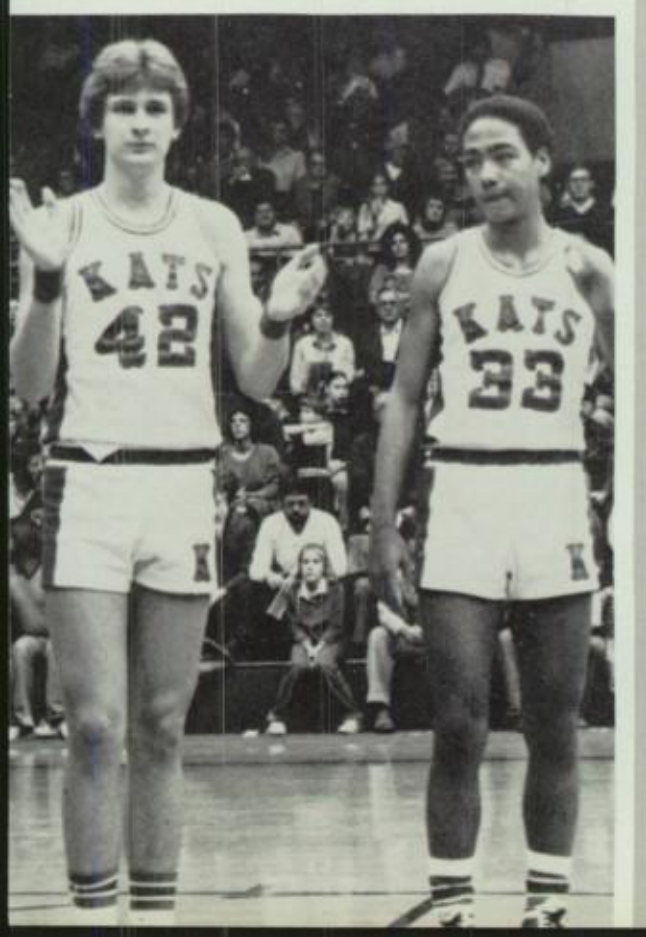
SENIORS Anne Levy, Darlene Bowser, and Robin Hoagland show their friendship at a game.

SENIOR Ty Basham and Mike Banush were the hit of the 1982 Father-Daughter Romp. (ss)

SENIOR Script K-ers Cindy Brown, Cathy Beach, Abby Conkle, and Ann Nolan enjoy the game. (rp)





We are great;
We are cool;
We're the toughest kids in school.

We've got spirit;
Yes, we do;
We're the Class of '82!!

SENIORS Allyson Johnson and Diana Thompson are fired-up after another volleyball team victory.

Kokomo, A Continuing Tradition

As always the institution of KHS fulfilled its obligation of developing students into fine young men and women. This development occurred in the areas of academics, physical development, and social life.

KHS kept up this tradition by keeping in step with changes in society. This was done by branching out into new areas such as computer math, vocational education, and other advanced courses.

Along with strong minds, strong bodies and attitudes were developed through KHS sports. Ty Basham, senior, commented, "I did more maturing during football and baseball because the experiences taught me a lot about myself than I would have ever learned sitting in a classroom."

Socially, students express their individualities through hobbies, work, and just fooling around.

Through these three aspects KHS prepared its graduates for college and even prepared some for the business world. After graduating some 110 classes KHS still is a Continuing Tradition.

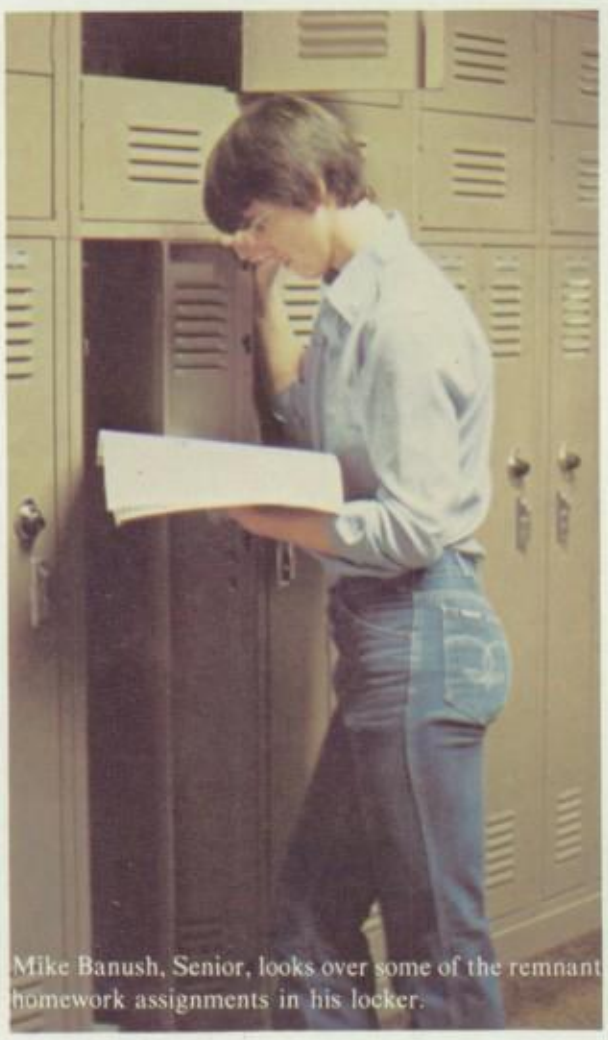
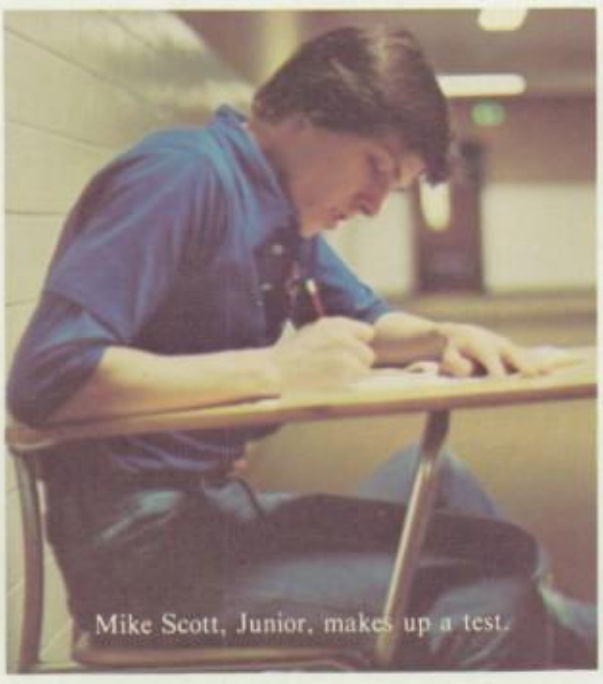
Boy's Legion members pose for their picture before undertaking the task of Campus Clean-up.



Mike Banush, Senior, looks over some of the remnant homework assignments in his locker.



Mike Scott, Junior, makes up a test.

Mrs. Taylor, English dept., records grades in her gradebook.

Mike Stokes, senior, leaves KHS as a student for the last time.

The humor of 26 students, the pressures of deadlines that came in the middle of snow storms, the film that didn't develop, and the unidentified person in the middle of the back row of the reference picture were all a part of the production of your yearbook.

An empty room at the end of class was only one of the surprises that greeted me this year. It is an apt symbol of this book. In September we had lots of blank pages and unexposed film that turned into the SARGASSO. The kids pulled this book together just as they somehow filled room 226 with furniture. The SARGASSO is your book — your record of KHS in the year 1981-82. You supplied the events, the good times and the bad; we only reported on them so that your own memories of this special year can be jogged to recall more than we were able to put on paper. I enjoyed being a small part of that effort and hope that you enjoy the book.

Keeping Spirits High

Freshmen cheerleaders demonstrate their abilities at an out of town game. (MC)

Choosen by the booster committee alone, the junior varsity and the freshmen cheerleaders have a difficult job. These six member squads carry the responsibilities of arousing team spirit without the help of many students for support. Both squads play a vital role in keeping both the freshmen and junior varsity's morale up during the seasons. Junior Star Willis commented, "I really enjoyed doing things for the guys when there was a big game. It was fun to bake cookies, send flowers and decorate." Both squads attended camp last summer to help improve their performance.

"I really had a good time at camp, we all had a good time and it helped us to get along well together," commented Junior varsity squad member Kim Hinkle.

It's Over

It's over, and we did it! The hours of pressure, deadlines, hassles, and yes, even fun are in the past. Now that all of our brainstorming has come to an end, we would like to take this opportunity to give credit where credit is due.

In addition to the 1981-82 SARGASSO Staff, we would especially like to thank Mr. Larry Glaze, our Herff Jones advisor, who helped us through thick and thin. Then, of course, there is our own advisor, Ms. Nancy Allman.

Also we would like to thank Mr. Wayne Lutrell and his staff for their fine job in raising the "green" that made the SARGASSO a reality. Furthermore, we would like to express our appreciation to Jerry Johnson and Shepple Studios for their help. Last, but not least, we thank the KHS students who make all of the work worthwhile.

"A Continuing Tradition," the theme of this year's yearbook. Ironically, 1981-82 was the last year for many past tradition; however, the 1981-82 SARGASSO lived-up to Kokomo High School's standards . . . it is "A Continuing Tradition."

Sincerely,

David Jackson
